SAYS—

The tempest in the teapot here in Sikeston the forepart of the week was caused by half drunk loafers who had nothing else to do but raise hell. Local officers knew who the leaders were but waited for some one to swear out a warrant before making an arrest. If given authority, Trooper Dace, by himself, could have nipped this dangerous "fun" these fellows were having, the first hour.

Now comes Judge Carter, police judge, and let Hildreth Dill and Bill Swinney loose on doubtful $100 bond when they were brought before him for disturbing the peace, drunk, and lead the disturbers. W. L. Mount, H. Keasler and J. R. Malone were on both bonds. The disturbers considered it a great joke. They should have been given 60 days on the street with ball and chain and if they didn't work, put them on bread and water.

It will be legal this Friday to shoot deer. The quail law will permit hunters to take the field in November. Sikeston merchants who handle ammunition report the greatest sales the past several days in the history of their business career, running from shot gun shells to long range repeating rifles that will kill a deer a mile.

Orville Zimmerman, the next Congressman from this district, was a Standard visitor Wednesday forenoon. He has been doing some splendid campaigning in this district and feels confident that at least nine out of the ten counties in this district will go Democratic and a good chance that all ten will be in line.

Funny how grapevine news spreads. Without trying to nose into anyone's business without cause, the grapevine tells us that trouble may arise Halloween night when young folks dress up, mask, parade the streets and have a lot of fun skylarking. Now the sensible thing for parents to do this time is to forbid their children to parade the streets wearing masks. The reason: it gives cover to certain people to start trouble and lay it on innocent people. Persons caught on the streets after dark wearing masks should have them removed by officers and patrolmen. One spark may start a fire that will be hard to subdue.

Sonny Lee, low shooter in local golf circles, left for Jefferson City Tuesday night to accept a position with the State Highway Department. A long distance telephone message from T. A. Wilson notified him.

Forty leading business men and citizens met with citizens and preachers of the Sunset Addition Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the colored Baptist church and pledged their efforts to cooperate in allaying the uneasiness in the community caused by the chasing from the streets of negro men by half drunk young white men. Two of the preachers made fine talks and pled for protection for their people who were trying to do right, live right and support their families. It was their prayer to be let alone that they might live in peace. The white men present deplored the unlawful actions taken by a few irresponsible whites and pledged their support to end the uneasiness.

The Standard joins the entire community in welcoming Rev. O. Car back to Sikeston as resident pastor of the Methodist church, and Mrs. Ocar as one of the leaders in church and civic work. These are mighty fine people.

Under the present law in the State of Missouri liquor violators are almost immune from punishment. It will be but a few months until the new legislature will convene and it is hoped the law will be so amended as to permit search and seizure and make it possible to deal out adequate punishment that may have the effect of breaking up some of the illegal sale of liquor. Then the Federal Government will have to reduce the tax on liquor if they ever expect to stop bootlegging and moonshining. If we drank liquor we would never pay the price asked for the doctored liquor sold by licensed dealers when we could buy pure, unadulterated moonshine for less than half. For one, we voted to repeal National prohibition and unless some relief is given from present conditions we are ready to vote for prohibition and all its viciousness.

Sometimes its costs nothing to make suggestions, so here goes. We are told the City of Sikeston owns the lot adjoining the City Hall. Let the Board of Public Works furnish the material and relief labor do the work on a suitable building for the office force of the Public Works. As it is there is absolutely no room to try a case in police court. No seats for interested citizens. From the looks of things the City Council will have to meet out of doors.

Chas. Turner, west of Sikeston, presented The Standard editor with several messes of fine sweet potatoes Wednesday.

Driver Uninjured as Truck Plunges Over Embankment

William O. (Spike) Heath escaped serious injury Monday night when a machine belonging to the Limbaugh Truck Company and driven by him plunged over a 30-foot embankment and was wrecked.

Heath, who had returned here by Wednesday, suffered only minor bruises. The truck, which was damaged almost beyond repair but was brought back to Sikeston, crashed down the embankment, where it was driving to Carverville, Ill., for a load of coal. The accident happened on Highway 2 near Carbondale, Ill.

A story which appeared in Wednesday's issue of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch stating that Heath drove the truck over the embankment in an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide was denied by the truck driver Wednesday afternoon.

Heath said that while Anis Couch, a companion who accompanied him on the trip for lack of better occupation, was driving the truck when he (Heath) fell asleep. Awakening suddenly, he instinctively grabbed the steering wheel. Couch evidently became frightened, Heath said, for he stopped the truck and got out. Heath does not think Couch took the ignition key with him. Couch secured a ride in an automobile, the truck driver said, while he started on alone toward his destination. He fell asleep again, and the truck careened off the highway.

The story appearing in the Post-Dispatch under a Carbondale dateline of Oct. 23 is repeated below:

A great truck lumbered northward along Highway No. 2 thru the orchard belt, late last night, headed for Carbondale, with Anis Couch, 22 year old, of Sikeston, Mo., at the wheel. Beside him sat William O. Heath, 21, also of Sikeston, regular driver for the Limbaugh Truck Co. of Sikeston.

Heath was in a despondent mood and as the truck rolled along he said he was tired of living, and was going to "end it all."

A good way, he suggested, would be to drive the truck over an embankment, and he asked Couch to go with him.

Couch did not want to go that way or any other way. He tried to talk Heath out of the notion. Taking a plunge in a truck, he pointed out, was at best a very uncertain way. Maybe they would be killed and maybe not. As he argued he tightened his grip on the wheel, fearful that Heath would wrench it from his hands and turn the truck out of the road.

Finally, on a pretext, he drove the truck off the pavement and stopped. Taking the ignition key he jumped to the ground and ran. Heath pursued and overtook him and threw him down and took the key away from him. Heath then went back to the truck and climbed into the cab and sat there brooding. Couch remained some distance away, helpless.

An automobile came from the south and Couch, going to meet it, flagged it. It was driven by H. Fletcher Lewis of Murphysboro, former State's Attorney of do. He said Heath was in a dangerous mood and begged Lewis to take him to Carbondale. Lewis agreed and proceeded, driving slowly. Heath started his engine and followed along. Couch kept looking back to see if Heath would keep the truck in the road.

Lewis was driving slowly up steep Patterson Hill when the following truck suddenly swerved from the pavement and went crashing over a 30-foot embankment.

Lewis turned and drove back and he and Couch found Heath injured and insensible in the wreckage of the truck. They dragged him out and brought him to Carbondale Hospital where his injuries were pronounced serious. Today Heath said he did not remember threatening to kill himself by wrecking the truck. The last thing he remembered, he said, was when it looked like the earth was closing in on him.

Critically Wounded In Shooting at New Madrid

The 30-year-old mother of three small children, Mrs. Ruth Murphy of New Madrid, was given only a slight chance Wednesday to recover from a bullet wound, which passed through her body, puncturing her liver, during a "playful scuffle" at her home Tuesday evening.

After receiving an emergency treatment at the office of a New Madrid physician, she was taken to the St. Francis hospital at Cape Girardeau, arriving there at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Roy S. Martin, 40-year-old world war veteran who was present at the shooting and who accompanied Mrs. Murphy to the hospital, was returned to New Madrid county by Sheriff Sam Harris after he had been questioned by officers in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Murphy was said to have stated she shot herself but failed to give any reason for the act. Martin, according to Trooper Percy Little and police who interviewed him, was quoted as substantiating her statement, adding that the wound was inflicted while the two "scuffled playfully" over a small pistol at about 11 o'clock Tuesday night at a time when Mrs. Murphy "kidded" him about associating with other women.

Martin, who admitted he had associated with Mrs. Murphy for some time, stated that he and the wounded woman and several companions attended a dance Tuesday evening. They both left early, though not together, and at 11 o'clock Martin went to the Murphy cabin, located on the bank of the Mississippi river at the edge of New Madrid, to talk with Mrs. Murphy. A lamp was burning in the one-room house when he entered. Soon afterward, Mrs. Murphy took a pistol which she kept in her cabin, from a dresser drawer, and during the tussle it was discharged once as Mrs. Murphy was on a bed and Martin stood beside it. The three Murphy children, Evelyn, 11 years old, Junior, 7, and Roscoe, 4, were in another bed at the time.

As Mrs. Murphy slumped down on the bed, Martin went to call a physician. The bullet entered the middle of her abdomen and ranged downward, passing out on the lower right side of her back. The pistol was later reported to have been found on the floor behind the bed and near a wall, and a large pool of blood was said to have been discovered several inches from the edge of the bed. The print dress, blood stained, which was worn by Mrs. Murphy at the time, and the gun, a .32-caliber pistol, were given to Sheriff Harris.

Martin, who has not been employed for two weeks, formerly picked cotton. Mrs. Murphy's husband, from whom she is separated, is believed to be living in Tennessee.

Dempster To Represent City at Damage Trial

Robert Dempster, city attorney, has been authorized by members of the city council to defend the city in the $10,000 damage suit brought in the Scott county court by Robert W. Simpson, a Sikeston trucker, specifically against W. M. Carson, formerly a deputy marshal, and Walter Kendall, police chief, for an alleged "malicious prosecution."

Mr. Dempster was also given permission to employ what legal assistance he requires for the trial, which is scheduled to be heard in the November term of the circuit court. The authorization was given him at a special council meeting held Monday evening in the city hall.

The aldermen also instructed W. C. Boardman, city street commissioner, to remove all iron stop and slow knobs now situated in the centers of street intersections; ordered stop signs to be placed on Malone avenue in front of the grammar school and on Tanner street by the high school during the hours when students are either entering or leaving school; and defeated an ordinance, introduced at the last session, prohibiting the construction of a livery stable, stockyard, pen, or barn in Sikeston within 350 feet of any existing house or place of business. Four councilmen approved the measure, while three opposed it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hargrove, Mrs. H. A. Henry and Mrs. Lola Jones spent Saturday in Cape Girardeau.

Dill and Heath Draw $50 Fines and 90-Day Sentences; Swinney Fined $15 and Costs

Dill and Heath Charged With Unlawful Assembly, Affray and Assault and Disturbing the Peace; Swinney Pleads Guilty to Disturbing the Peace—Outgrowth of Negro Altercation.

The race riot which began less than a week after the finding of Dave Martin's decomposed body in a cornfield three miles southeast of here Oct. 9 and only a day after the confession of the murder by three negroes and which reached its peak Monday afternoon, was almost completely ended with the arrest of four men said to have been the ring-leaders in Monday afternoon's incident.

Two of them, H. E. (Red) Heath and Hildreth (Pickle) Dill, were convicted on three counts at a trial held in the police court here Thursday morning and each fined $50 and sentenced to serve 90 days in jail. Both men, who indicated Thursday that they would appeal the decision, have police records here, and only last month, Heath was confined to the jail on a diet of bread and water after he had pled guilty to fighting and been fined $10 and costs, a total of $17.35, but refused either to pay it or work on the city streets.

A third, Bill Swinney, was released on a bond of $100 after his arrest Monday, as were the other two, pled guilty to one count, disturbing the peace, and was fined $15 and costs Thursday afternoon by Judge W. H. Carter. Heath and Dill were found guilty of engaging in affray and assault, disturbing the peace, and engaging in disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly on the streets of Sikeston.

Marshall Gunter, the fourth man, who was arrested and placed in jail before the incident which brought about the arrest of the other men, but who was believed to have been connected with the uprising Monday afternoon, was scheduled to be given a preliminary hearing before Justice Joseph W. Myers Thursday afternoon on a charge of felonious assault with a gun. Gunter was kept in the Scott county jail at Benton from Monday until the time for his hearing.

Early Monday afternoon Gunter, according to Archie Woodney, who operates a garage on Scott street directly south of West Malone avenue, and Swinney appeared in front of his business place as they and a group of about 40 men were chasing a fleet negro who had escaped from them and fled far down a street. Stopping at the garage, Woodney said, Gunter and Swinney got into the cab of a Midwest Dairy Products Company truck on which he had just finished working, and attempted to drive it off in order to catch the negro. While forcing the two men from the truck, Woodney said, he struck Gunter two or three times with his fist. The two men went on and he continued to work on another automobile.

But later, as Woodney bent over a tool case, Ichy Arthur appeared in the front of his garage, and crying a warning, caused him to turn his head to a vacant lot behind the building where, he said, Gunter stood with a double-barreled shotgun leveled at him. Falling rapidly to the ground, he managed to seek safety behind an automobile in the garage and to leave by the front door. Gunter then turned the gun toward Elvis Martin, who was in the garage at the time, but when Martin escaped, too, he presumably returned the gun to its owner nearby. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ira Shuffitt a few moments later and taken to the county jail.

The trial of Heath and Dill, scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, was continued until the following morning at the request of Robert Dempster, city attorney, after only seven men of 25 questioned by Robert Daugherty, who was appointed attorney for the defendants by the court, had qualified and after Police Chief Walter Kendall said that he was unable to find additional men to subpoena for jury service.

After an hour was consumed Thursday morning in empaneling a jury, the trial was begun. W. U. Taylor, manager of the Sterling store here, stated that on Monday afternoon, Dill and another man whom he did not know entered his store building on the corner of Center and North New Madrid streets and attempted to order all negroes out until he ejected them.

S. L. Schilling, on the witness stand, stated that on the same afternoon he had seen Heath and Dill chasing Junior Gordon, a negro employee of a Malone avenue barber shop, on the sidewalk in front of the J. William Foley Motor Company garage, where he works, and Ichy Arthur said that as he talked with a friend on Malone avenue he saw Heath kick Gordon.

Gordon, however, refused to give valuable testimony, because he was frightened, it is thought. When he was unable to extract evidence from the negro, Mr. Dempster had himself sworn in and told the jury of a conversation which he had had with Gordon soon after the incident Monday afternoon.

According to Mr. Dempster, Gordon told him that as he sat in a car parked on Malone avenue, Dill approached him and requested that he walk up the street to talk. As Gordon stood with Dill on the sidewalk, Heath struck him several times on the back of the head, knocking him down. After escaping the two, Gordon went to the office of Dr. A. A. Mayfield, where he was treated for his injuries and where he told the physician who had hit him. Dr. Mayfield, however, as well as two other city witnesses, could not be reached.

When Mr. Dempster rested the city's case, Mr. Daugherty requested a continuance until the afternoon, stating that he had not been given a long enough time to talk with his witnesses. When this request was denied by the court, without calling or questioning any witnesses, Mr. Daugherty rested his case. After Mr. Dempster had given the argument for the city, however, Mr. Daugherty pled for mercy for the defendants, saying they had lacked proper advantages and were "underdogs."

The jurors, G. P. Van Arsdale, Eli Ables, Gus Martin, F. D. Lair, Herschel Randolph and Clay Mitchell, required only 20 minutes to reach a decision and to fix the punishment after they had been instructed by Mr. Dempster and requested to set the fine and sentence if they found the defendants guilty.

Both Heath and Dill were placed in the city jail, where Dill has been since he was arrested Tuesday night and kept to "lay out" a fine for drunkenness contracted in August but never paid.

Heath, Dill and Swinney were all released on $100 bonds after their arrest Monday afternoon. The bonds for Dill and Swinney were signed by W. F. Mount, H. Keasler and J. R. Malone. Heath served as principal for his own bond and M. L. Limbaugh as security.

The uprising which was subdued Monday afternoon with the arrest of the four men thought to be the ringleaders of the mob of 40 which attempted to chase negroes from the streets, is almost certainly known to be a direct outgrowth of the murder Oct. 7 of Dave Martin, former convict, world war veteran, and a mechanic at the Boyer Auto Service on West Center street.

After Martin's body was found early on the morning of Oct. 8, only a short distance off the old Bloomfield road, officers conducted an intensive drive to discover his slayers, and after questioning numerous negroes throughout the week they succeeded in obtaining full confessions from three, Lucian (Chunk) Given, also an employee at the Boyer garage, James Harrington, and Clarence Hunter, who stated that as Martin drank with one of them at the Bluebird cafe here, they lured him to the deserted cornfield on the pretext of buying more whisky. One then knocked him down with his fists, they confessed, and after obtaining $24 from his pockets they struck him on the head several times with an automobile crank, tried to run over his body with their car, and then dragged him to the edge of a clump of weeds, where they left him.

The three negroes were removed to the jail of New Madrid county, where the crime was committed, and on the following night, Oct. 13, a band of about 60 men was reported to have gone to (Continued on Page Four)

Senator to Speak, Comedy to be Shown at Democratic Rally at Armory Tonight

State Senator James McDowell of Charleston will speak and a four-reel motion picture comedy will be shown free at the armory here tonight (Friday) beginning at 7:30 o'clock, when all Democratic candidates for county offices gather here to continue their barnstorming campaign in Scott county at a Democratic rally which is expected to draw an unusually large crowd.

Elected to the state senate from the 23rd district in 1932, Senator McDowell served in the 57th general assembly as chairman of the committee on private corporations.

In addition to his work with this group, he also served as a member of the following committees: commerce, manufactures and labor, criminal jurisprudence, education, eleemosynary institutions, pensions, immigrations, local bills.

Adds Fourth Operator to Tiny Beauty Salon Staff

To care for increased business but especially that of her out of town patrons, Mrs. C. W. Davenport, proprietor of the Tiny Beauty Salon in the Keith building on West Center street, has employed a new operator, Miss Hallie Wellford of Portageville, a licensed beautician of wide experience. Miss Wellford, who has been working at a beauty parlor in Steele, will begin her association with Mrs. Davenport here today. When Miss Wellford joins the Tiny Beauty Salon staff, Mrs. Davenport will have four operators. In order to care for increased business, as well, Mrs. Davenport has enlarged her quarters and installed another booth for customers.

Darling's Hearing Postponed 15 Days

A preliminary hearing for Edward Darling, Illinois brakeman who shot his wife to death on a Cotton Belt train near Delta Oct. 15, which was scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed for about 10 days.

The hearing will be held before J. A. Rapp, justice of the peace in Jackson, where Darling has been held without bond since the slaying. S. P. Dalton, prosecuting attorney of Cape Girardeau county, who will represent the state at the hearing, was in Illinois this week on business.

Two of Darling's two sons, Etienne and Carlton, have visited him at the Jackson jail since the shooting, and a sister of Darling who lives in Pine Bluff, Ark., is expected to arrive in Jackson this week to be with her brother at the time of the hearing.

Although Darling had not announced the employment of an attorney to defend him at the hearing, he is known to have conferred with one who will probably appear in court in his behalf.

The Rev. Charles E. Harris, 74-year-old retired minister of McMullin who was injured on the morning of Sept. 11 when he was struck on Highway 61 by a car driven by H. F. Emerson of Morley, died at 11 o'clock Tuesday night in the Southeast Missouri hospital at Cape Girardeau, where he had been confined since the accident.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Thursday at the Methodist church in Morley, the Rev. J. C. Montgomery, pastor of a Methodist church in Jackson and formerly presiding elder of the Cape Girardeau district, and the Rev. D. M. Margrave of Wyatt, officiating. Burial was in the Morley cemetery.

Mr. Harris suffered a fractured right leg, a scalp wound, and internal injuries when he stepped in front of Mr. Emerson's car as he attempted to cross the highway after getting his morning mail.

Although he was born in Illinois, Mr. Harris had been a resident of Missouri 40 years. For 30 years he served as pastor of numerous churches in Southeast Missouri. Before he retired a year ago, he had charge of the Matthews circuit.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary G. Harris, Morley; a son, G. D. Harris, also of Morley; two daughters, Mrs. George Lyle Sikeston, and Mrs. R. L. Harrison of Benton; two sisters, Mrs. Cynthia Cummins of Morley and Mrs. Kate Albright of Joppla, Ill.; a half-brother, George Helm, Reeseville, Ill., 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Bulldogs to Play at Chaffee

Although it is unlikely that four of the most outstanding players of the Bulldogs eleven will play in the football game scheduled for 2:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon at Chaffee, football fans here believe that Sikeston men will claim their fourth straight victory and their fifth of the 1934 season on the neighboring Scott county town's field today.

The men who probably will not play are Rushing, Wilson, V. Jones, and Donnell. The Chaffee Red Devils defeated the Bulldogs 13 to 0 last year, but this fall they have not only failed to win their scheduled games but have been beaten by large scores as well.

The game today will be played in the afternoon.

floodlights which formerly permitted night football games at Chaffee have never been replaced on the field since they were blown down last year.

After their trip north today, the Bulldogs will stay at home until the last game of the season, Thanksgiving day, which will be played at Charleston. They will be hosts to eleven from Farmington, Perryville and Kennett here on Friday nights beginning Nov. 2, continuing their drive to make an outstanding record for this football season. The Bulldogs have already taken games from Matthews, Charleston, Dexter and Cairo, and lost only to Jonesboro.

The game today will be played in the afternoon.

MANY ROAD PROJECTS LISTED FOR DIVISION 10

Proposed road projects for the counties embraced by the tenth division of the state highway department which far outnumbered those of any other division are included in a list of proposals for which the Missouri State Highway Commission will award contracts in Jefferson City on Nov. 2, it was announced today.

The total projects will provide for the construction of 234 miles of roadway at an estimated cost of $1,824,000. Of this total, 92 miles costing $225,000 will be built with state funds; 53 miles costing approximately $91,200 from state maintenance funds; 93 miles costing about $1,407,200 with federal funds, and a bridge and short section costing $84,500 from PWA funds. One section will be constructed from flood relief funds.

Only two projects are scheduled for Scott county: gravel in stockpiles on Route SB west of Morley, and gravel in stockpiles on Route SD between Routes 55 and N. In Ripley there will be one similar project between Doniphan and Route E; in Bollinger, three on Route 51 near Lutesville and between Routes 91 and Stoddard county, and one on Route 37 south from Route 51.

REQUEST TO HUNTERS NEAR THE CCC CAMP

Hunters are asked to help reduce the hazard to men engaged in Emergency Conservation Work on projects in Missouri parks and forests, in a statement issued this week by Commissioner Buford.

With the approach of the hunting season this suggestion has especial pertinency. Commissioner Buford's statement reads: "I request that all hunters shall refrain from hunting within rifle range of any work project that the lives of the some ten thousand men now employed in the 40 CCC camps in the state may not be jeopardized."

Clarence Hunter, one of the confessed slayers of Dave Martin, was placed on a diet in the Butler county jail at Poplar Bluff Tuesday, after he had held the arms of another prisoner in the jail while his two companions in the murder, Lucian Given and James Harrington, searched the prisoner's pockets.

He was given solitary confinement and a ten-day diet of bread and water. "You can hold a man and rob him on the outside, but that's strictly against the rules in here," Deputy Sheriff Jess Womack told Hunter.

Immediate success of Missouri duck hunters is up to the weather man. Large flocks of waterfowl from the north will be delayed until a cold snap strikes this section.

BUS OPERATORS TOLD NOT TO DRIVE IN NEW MADRID

New Madrid residents who wanted to ride the Dixie Greyhound buses early this week were forced to wait a half mile, if they were unable to secure a car, to the junction of the gravel road into town and Highway 61, for Greyhound officials ordered drivers not to take their buses into New Madrid to let out or take on passengers as formerly, after one company employee had an altercation with the town marshal a week ago.

Since the officer, H. B. Henderson, has publicly stated he is sorry because he struck the bus driver, it was thought that members of the city council would request the re-routing of the company's itinerary to include New Madrid again.

J. C. Hatler, the driver, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of assaulting an officer after he had stopped at a street crossing to allow his passengers to dismount without stepping into water. Henderson told Hatler to back his machine, and when the driver ignored the officer, the latter again ordered the bus moved. This time, however, Hatler kicked Henderson. He was arrested and started toward court, but as he went, Hatler grasped a telephone pole and refused to move. It was then that the marshal fractured the driver's jaw in loosening his hold on the pole.

CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN $2500 FURNITURE THEFT

Clarence Barks, manager of a small hotel in Cape Girardeau, was taken to Benton Saturday and placed in the Scott county jail to face a charge of participation in the robbery Sept. 3 of Albert Losse, Fornfelt cafe proprietor, who was relieved of $2500 in money and diamonds as he was on his way home.

Barks was taken to Benton by Sheriff Joe Anderson after his arrest by detectives in St. Louis. It was said that two large diamonds, still in their original mountings, and a ring mounting which bears Losse's name, had been recovered and are now being held by officials of a St. Louis company who had insured the jewels. The exact disposition of the $150 in cash taken from Losse was not learned.

Willie (Birdlegs) Jones, a Cape Girardeau negro, who was arrested Sept. 7 when he suddenly appeared in numerous new garments, is still being held, however. Jones was supposed to have admitted robbing Losse with a gun, but at the time of his arrest he stated he had been hired by a white man. Meanwhile, officers held a second negro for questioning and waited for confirmation of a rumor that the stolen diamonds were to be sold soon.

GERARD LEROY MATTHEWS

Funeral services for Gerard Leroy Matthews, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Matthews of Chaffee, who died Sunday evening after a week's illness, were conducted Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. George Walker.

Besides his parents the child is survived by a brother, Gentry Matthews of Chaffee, and eight sisters, Christine, Virginia, Edith, and Gloria Matthews, Mrs. John Schott and Mrs. Lee Halter, all of Chaffee, and Mrs. H. Ostendorf and Mrs. Bertha Lamont, both of St. Louis.

BATTLE OF FREDERICKTOWN

This week marks the 73rd anniversary of the Battle of Fredericktown, Mo., which was the turning point in the first Confederate drive on St. Louis during the Civil war. It was fought on Oct. 21, 1861, at 1:30 in the afternoon, between a part of the Missouri State Guard, commanded by Brig. Gen. M. Jeff Thompson, and Federal troops under Colonels W. P. Carlin and J. B. Plummer.

Thompson, often called the "Swamp Fox" marched from Columbus, Ky., with 2,000 men toward St. Louis with the intention of destroying on the way a three-span bridge over Big River, near Mineral Point, 40 miles south of St. Louis. On Thursday, Oct. 15, Thompson attacked the fort held by a small Federal force under Capt. Elliott at the Big River bridge, captured several prisoners and most of the equipment, burned the bridge, and then, changing his plans, moved south along the Pilot Knob road to meet Carlin's advance. Carlin, who was stationed at Pilot Knob, about 25 miles from Fredericktown, planned to surround and capture Thompson's entire force. The troops for the former, being less accustomed to the mountainous terrain of Madison and surrounding counties than the Missourians under Thompson, soon were beating a hasty retreat. A Union official reported after the skirmish that Thompson had a force of 5,000 men, and asked Gen. Grant, stationed at Cairo, Ill., that reinforcements be sent to Carlin from Cape Girardeau in addition to those already ordered out by rail from St. Louis. Grant sent Col. Plummer from Cape Girardeau with 1,500 men to aid Carlin in capturing Thompson, whose force was then rumored to be 10,000.

Thompson arrived at Fredericktown on Friday, Oct. 17, barely in time was his 500 cavalry to help repulse an attack on his infantry which was already stationed in the town. He remained at Fredericktown, making such preparations as he could to ward off attacks. He realized the predicament he was in, with Carlin closing in on his west and south, thus cutting off his retreat toward the south, and Plummer approaching on his east and north. In addition to this Thompson had added few recruits from the vicinity, a fact which he attributed partly to his lack of guns. The citizens of the town seemed in sympathy with the South, so much so that the Union soldiers, believing the townspeople had held back information on the movements of the Confederate troops, in exasperation after the battle burned several houses in the town before their commanders could stop them.

Thompson had the good fortune on Sunday morning to intercept a

BETTER ELECTRIC SERVICE

Thirty years ago the consumer bought electricity at a high rate from a small local concern. Service was uncertain in the extreme, and when the plant shut down every now and then for a day or so, it was considered inevitable. Farm and railroad electrification, like electric labor saving devices, were unknown.

Now, for a fraction of the price then charged, the public gets the highest possible standards of electric service. Even short interruptions of service are rare, because the Missouri Utility Company has tremendous resources with numerous sources of power, and serves many communities. Customers have many labor saving devices available and they cost very little to operate. The electric industry is busy carrying on rural electrification projects, that are bringing, at a reasonable cost, the blessings of power to thousands of farmers, as well as to people in cities.

YOU can bank on the double economy of every gallon of Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

ECONOMY NUMBER 1. It is honest, high test—with effective volatility so high that it is rarely equalled by any other gasoline even at a higher price.

Such high test used to cost a premium. Now without paying a penny extra, you get the extra mileage resulting from far less choking. You enjoy more power, quicker warm-up, flashier acceleration, new speed and ease of starting.

ECONOMY NUMBER 2. Phillips 66 is genuinely high anti-knock, without the faintest ping on hard pulls or hills. That used to cost a premium, too. Now you pay nothing extra for the extra anti-knock quality added by Lead Tetraethyl.

And changeable weather can't affect this all-round improved performance, because CONTROLLED VOLATILITY matches Phillips 66 to your location and climate in advance. Remember, Phillips pioneered "tailored" gasoline.

Just stop for a trial tankful at the Orange and Black 66 Shield, and you will have some extra coins to put in baby's bank—because both your car and your money will go farther!

courier from Plummer to the commandant at Ironton, whereby it was revealed in a message that Plummer intended to attack Thompson at Fredericktown Monday morning. Thompson left town immediately and stationed his supply train about 12 miles toward Greenville for its safety. On returning to Fredericktown the next morning and finding it already occupied by the enemy, he laid in ambush a short distance outside the town along the Greenville road.

Carlin arrived in Fredericktown about 9 a. m. Monday with 3,000 men and was surprised to find that Thompson had left the day before. Plummer entered the town with his troops three hours later, and was equally surprised to find Carlin in charge of the town instead of Thompson.

Learning that the enemy had fled south toward Greenville, Plummer set out at 1 o'clock in pursuit. Plummer and his men soon ran into Thompson's ambush, deployed immediately, and began to return the fire of the Confederates. Carlin, who had remained in town, heard the guns and at once hastened with his forces to investigate.

The battle raged for about three hours, after which the Confederates retreated south toward their supply train, followed by Plummer's infantry for 10 miles, and the next day, 12 miles farther by his cavalry, which was endeavoring to capture Thompson's supplies.

The commanders on both sides reported to their superiors that they had in effect won the battle. Carlin and Plummer alleging that their own loss was slight, whereas the losses by the Confederates were heavy, and Thompson claiming his men killed three Federals to each Confederate who lost his life.

Among the dead after the battle were Aden Lowe, lieutenant-colonel in the Missouri State Guard, and John S. Gavitt and John K. Highman, major and captain respectively, in the Federal ranks.

No other battle was fought at Fredericktown during the war. Two of the mines near the town which had furnished lead to the Confederates were destroyed and the bodies of more than 150 men were dumped into graves on the battlefield by the Union troops before they vacated the town.

DISTRICT LEGION SESSION WILL BE HELD AT BLUFF

A tentative program for the 15th annual convention of members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary of the old 14th congressional district which will be held in Poplar Bluff on Nov. 10 and 11 has already been outlined by former service men of Poplar Bluff under the direction of Bert Martin, now commander of the Brown-Mabry post, and George Wood, Everett Wynne, and Dr. J. L. Lindsay, convention committee members. Numerous Sikeston Legionnaires and women of the auxiliary are expected to be among the 1000 members who will attend the sessions from 22 Southeast Missouri towns.

After registering Saturday morning, Nov. 10, persons attending the convention will witness a large parade of school children, who will be given toys and possibly some other gift and who will be guests of the Legion during the entire afternoon. That night, Legionnaires and auxiliary women will attend a Casino Club dance, at which music will be furnished by a nationally known orchestra.

According to present plans persons at the convention will attend churches of their choice the following morning to hear sermons appropriate to Armistice day. At 1 o'clock bands and drum and bugle corps from throughout the district will join former service men and their wives in a huge street parade, and at 3 o'clock post commanders will convene for a business session.

An Auxiliary program afterward and a banquet at 6 o'clock Sunday evening will complete the planned program, but before the convention is adjourned, new district officers will be chosen.

SCHILLIG-BAKER

The marriage of Miss Mary Baker and Sidney L. Schillig, both of Sikeston, was solemnized at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Baker in Cape Girardeau by the Rev. W.

E. Hicks, pastor of the Red Star Baptist church. Only friends of the bride and bride-groom attended the ceremony.

For some time Mrs. Schillig has worked at the International Shoe factory here and Mr. Schillig has been employed at the J. William Foley Motor Company. The couple will live in Sikeston.

Teachers in the negro schools of Southeast Missouri will gather in Charleston Nov. 15 for an annual meeting, it was announced today. Plans for the convention, which was held last year in Cape Girardeau, are now being formed.

Election of Circuit Judge

Frank Kelly
Democratic Candidate

We reprint this week three articles commenting on the Democratic candidate for Circuit Judge. The first from a Republican editor and the last two from Democratic editors.

What the Republican said:

"JUDGE FRANK KELLY"

In this issue in the proper place will be found the announcement of Judge Frank Kelly for renomination and election to the circuit court of this district, as a Democrat. It is useless for us to presume to better acquaint him with our readers or the citizenship of this county. This is merely to inform all those who read this paper. We have known Judge Kelly for a good many years and consider him worthy of again being named to preside over the Mississippi County Circuit Court. He is absolutely honest and sincere in his opinions and his instructions of juries. He is a man whom we have considered as able and impartial; that like other humans, subject to err. We, insofar as we are concerned, think of him as Judge Pat Dyer once said while presiding in Federal Court upon which occasion we were present. He said in paroling a defendant after a plea of guilty: "Gentlemen, I have been charged with being too lenient in many instances, but thank God it is in the right direction." So with Judge Kelly.—Charleston Enterprise, April 5th, 1934.

What a Democrat said:

"The Standard editor was approached Thursday afternoon by a gentleman who inquired if we were interested in beating Judge Frank Kelly with Stephen Barton. Our answer was a very emphatic 'Hell No!'. Being a Democrat, we are for every man on the Democratic ticket from Truman to Bill Ellis. In the first place, Judge Kelly is experienced as a judge and Steve Barton is not. Of course, we suppose if Judge Kelly should die, someone could be found to take his place, but at this time while he is in good health and on our ticket we are for him 100 per cent. We have heard before that an effort would be made to defeat him, but it will not be done in this section."—Sikeston Standard, August 28th, 1934.

Another Democrat:

"Judge Frank Kelly, the Democratic nominee, has been circuit judge in this district for a number of years. He has been tested and tried. There has never come to this office any report or charge of the slightest character as to his unfairness or dishonesty. He may have made honest mistakes, but none were influenced by prejudice or hope of reward. The positions of judges of our courts should not be permitted to become political rewards. We must have judges who are capable, clean and honest, and this paper is sure that Judge Kelly fills the bill. We do not believe that any good Democrat will support Steve Barton."—Cash-Book, Oct. 4th, 1934.

We submit he is entitled to every Democrat's vote and to as many of the liberal Republicans as appreciate a good Circuit Judge, regardless of politics.

The conviction by a jury of the two boys caught in the disturbance here the first of the week has given general satisfaction to merchants and a large per cent of our people. It is not because it happened to be Pickle Dill and Red Heath but any two caught in a like disturbance. This unnecessary and uncalled for flare-up has cost our merchants many hundreds of dollars in loss of business and gained those responsible for the loss nothing. The merchants and business men in every line are determined that this sort of "fun" is to be stopped, even if it be necessary to form a vigilance committee.

New Madrid and sought to gain release of the negroes to them.

No further disturbances were reported until the following Tuesday, Oct. 16, when a mob of more than 200 men of Sikeston and New Madrid gathered at the jail entrance while Sheriff Sam Harris was in Portageville and demanded the negroes. The man, who were slightly disguised with half-inch strips of gauze and displayed several ropes though no guns, were told that the negroes had been taken to another jail for safe keeping after a tip concerning the mob had been telephoned to New Madrid from here earlier in the evening. When they were still dissatisfied, two delegations of three each were allowed to inspect the interior of the jail and the basement of Sheriff Harris' house to be certain the negroes, who had been removed to the Butler county jail at Poplar Bluff, were no longer confined at New Madrid. As the mob disbanded peacefully, Harris returned from Portageville, stopping on the road to speak with some of the men, whom he failed to identify, and cautioning them against mob activities.

Although rumors were spread that negro cabins in the better parts of town were to be burned, no definite action of any kind was taken until the following Saturday afternoon, Oct. 20, when numerous Sikeston men ordered all negroes to be off the streets and at their homes by 10 o'clock p. m. When they found some of the negroes still in town after that hour, many of the men, estimated at about 100, began to clear the streets of negroes.

Stores were emptied, greatly hurting business men's trade, some negroes were threatened with knives and other weapons, and others reported beaten and otherwise hurt by white men. One negro, returning home with an armful of bundles at the end of his day's work at a Sikeston home, was said to have been met by a white man who whirled him around by striking his shoulder, and then chased by the white man's companions as he was forced to drop his packages to escape the mob's rage. Still other negroes were only badly frightened, and some of them were taken home by merchants and employers.

After Monday's disturbance, business leaders met with negro representatives at the negro Baptist church late in the afternoon at the request of the negroes, who sought only protection from harm. At a special council meeting Monday night Dr. G. W. Presnell said that he had called Governor Guy B. Park, who in turn had notified Gen. Harold W. Brown, commander of the Missouri National Guard. General Brown, it was learned, remained in his office until late Monday evening so that he could order out the national guard, probably Company K which is stationed here under captaincy of R. R. Reed, if it was found necessary.

City firemen were instructed to be in readiness to stop any fires which might break out Monday night, and eight special officers were added to members of the city police force, who remained up all night in order to quell disturbances.

The only incident that night, however, was the breaking of the windows at the home of the pastor of the negro Methodist church and although similar uprisings were reported in Charleston and New Madrid, no further disturbance of consequence was begun here and the special police force was gradually diminished.

Law violators have been warned, however, not to use Halloween night as a means of damaging property or further harming negroes, for if they are caught by officers they will be severely punished, city officials say. To help prevent trouble, children out for Halloween pranks have been urged not to mask since it is believed that if they, as well as mobsters, were disguised, law violators could not be easily detected.

The preliminary hearing for Marshall Gunter on a charge of felonious assault with a gun which was to have been held here on Thursday afternoon was postponed until today, according to Judge Joseph W. Myers. It will probably be heard this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock in Judge Myers' office on the second floor of the city hall.

FIVE ATTEND STATE BAPTIST CONVENTION

The Rev. Leslie Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson and their daughter Miss Helen Johnson, and Miss Kathryn Burks left here Tuesday to attend sessions of the Centennial meeting of the Missouri Baptist General Assembly which was held in St. Louis on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Delegates to the convention learned Tuesday that the total net membership gain among the 1728 Missouri Baptist churches during the fiscal year just ended was 4535, a number almost twice that of the year before.

The total membership is now 247,907, according to a report presented by members of the association's executive board. Baptist church property in Missouri is valued at $14,535,818. A total of $1,559,372 was contributed to the churches during the last year.

Speakers at the convention included former State Senator Walter Q. Crockett of Farmington, who delivered the annual sermon on "The Eternal Christ in a Changing World"; Dr. George W.
Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas, Texas, and president of the Baptist World Alliance, who led a devotional service; Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist church in St. Louis, who gave the address of welcome, and Dr. J. Clyde Turner of Greensboro, N. C., who spoke on "Our Baptist Heritage."
Part of the sessions of the convention were devoted to reports on charitable work and missions.

DORCAS CLASS

The Dorcas Class of the First Baptist church met Sunday morning, Oct. 21, with 20 girls and several visitors present. The lesson topic was on prayer. During the teaching of this lesson, Mrs.
Garrison brought out the fact that each Christian should have a certain time each day set aside for prayer, and that we should pray for the things by which God may be glorified. Also did we learn that what is commonly called "The Lord's Prayer" is only a model prayer which Christ told us to pray, and that the real Lord's prayer—the one prayed by Christ himself, is found in the 17th Chapter of John.

We had officers' meeting Monday night at 8, at which time we laid plans for bringing back old members, and obtaining new.

We continue our invitation to all young women between the ages of 17 and 24 who do not attend Sunday school elsewhere, to come and visit our class, which meets every Sunday morning at 9:30.

D. D. ELLIS ORDAINED AT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

One of the prettiest and most impressive religious ceremonies ever held in Sikeston occurred last Sunday morning when the Rev. Dorsey D. Ellis was ordained and installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Rev. C. H. Morton of Cape Girardeau was presiding officer, the sermon was by the Rev. B. R.
Schwegler of New Madrid. The charge to the pastor was given by the Rev. W. J. Gammon of Jackson, the charge to the congregation was given by Judge Schultz of Cape Girardeau. Mrs. Ralph Anderson officiated at the piano, and as choir leader, and Miss Leona Kindred was soloist.

The singing by the choir was beautiful, and like the entire service was most impressive, and those who were present will ever remember the occasion.

mon country school, then attended the high school at Waverly, graduating in 1927. He then attended King College at Bristol, Tenn., and graduated in 1931 with the B. A. degree. His next move was to the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., graduating with the Bachelor of Divinity degree, and came direct to Sikeston from there, taking charge of the congregations here and at Charleston under the Missouri Synod. He passed his examination for ordination before the Potosi Presbytery at Fruitland, Mo., on Sept. 8, 1934.

Since it was necessary that he be called as a pastor before he could be ordained, and since he gave the best of satisfaction to the congregations both here and at Charleston, they were glad to make that call and the date of Oct. 21 was set for his ordination and installation at both places as above stated.

We are informed that they had a very fine program with wonderful music at the Charleston church and a large congregation.
The day terminated after the evening service with the Sikeston congregation gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A.
O'Hara where a religious program was indulged in, followed by ice cream and cake, at which time a silver offering was made by those present and the Reverend was ushered into his ministry here, a fully surprised by happy pastor.

Space will not permit full mention of the beautiful solos rendered and the pretty things said under the direction of Elmer Poage as spokesman.

Rev. Ellis' previous work before coming to Sikeston was mission work during the four years he attended Bristol College, one year in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and the year 1932 as assistant pastor of Logan Presbyterian church at Logan, W. Va.

ADAPTED FROM THE METRO-GOLDWYN MAYER PICTURE BEATRICE FABER

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Diane Lovering has married Richard Field, forty-eight and wealthy, her lover for five years, although she is really in love with Mike Bradley. They have met on board ship when Diane sailed to Buenos Aires while Field adjusted his marital affairs after his wife's discovery of Diane. Arriving home, in the morning, he found Diane coming marriage to Mike, he has confided her with news of his divorce, and the whole world knows it has been for Diane. She cannot let him down. A year later they meet accidentally, and Mike takes her to a private restaurant. She struggles against his attraction, but after a stirring scene, yields to his frankly desirous kiss.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER TEN.

Locked Hearts.

Not until Mike lifted her into his arms did awareness crowd back to Diane—of Richard, his faith in her and in their marriage. She must not—she could not violate her own code of honor.

"Mike—no, no—not that way," she begged, clinging to him, tears of entreaty in her eyes. Setting her down, his puzzled expression answered the plea in her voice.

But he asked with hard mockery, "How else?"

She turned and met his eyes. Then, with tender ardor, she put her lips to his, just brushing them, and murmured his name. Somewhere in Mike's heart a chord was strummed. Then he gazed at a crescendo of beautiful sound. He folded her in his arms again. With a stifled little cry of relief and ecstasy, Diane returned the touch of his lips. It was the same kiss that they had known that day in the sun.

"Dinah," Mike, purged of his bitterness, dwelt on the name softly, wonderingly.

Diane's cheek was against his. "Dinah, I've waited so long to hear you say—and it's true now."

"Dinah, why did you do it?"

"What?" She caressed his temple, his hair, hardly hearing the question.

"Why did you write that letter, and let me spend a year—thinking of you—you—as just a—"

She lowered her arms. It came to her that she had overstepped the mark and given herself away. Pitifully she made an effort to cover up, to make him hate her again.

"I—I thought I owed you the truth, Mike."

Mike laughed triumphantly. "And like a poor, daffy kid I believed it, but, I had known that day in the sun, because I was counting the days, I guess."

Diane, torn, determined to stick to her guns. She shrugged her shoulders. "No, Mike, really. It was true then—and it's true now."

Disregarding her words, he swept her into his arms. "Only this is true," he cried. "You here—saying meaningless words, while all the rest of you keeps telling me different things by striking out in lines and 10 the words 'at least one house of legislation to be elected by general ticket or by wards' in said section shall be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 22. Charter how amended and revised. The charter of any city may be amended by proposals therefor submitted by the lawmaking authorities of the city to the qualified voters thereof, at a general or special election held at least sixty days after the publication of such proposals and accepted by three-fifths of the qualified voters voting for or against each of said amendments so submitted; and the lawmaking authorities of such city may order an election by the qualified voters of the city of a board of thirteen freeholders and such city to prepare a new charter for such city, which said charter shall be in harmony with and subject to the Constitution and laws of the State, and shall provide, among other things, for a chief executive and for house or houses of legislation to be elected by general ticket or by wards. ta Verda Ebert, daughter of Col. and Mrs. A. A. Ebert of Sikeston, were married Thursday noon, Oct. 4, in a pretty ceremony at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Hubbard in Gilsum. Rev. Willis E. Smith, pastor of the First Congregational church officiated in a single ring service, and was followed by an informal buffet luncheon given by Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Hubbard, who are close friends of the bride and groom's families. The bride was gowned in ivory white lace, fashioned on princess lines and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Only a few close friends of the couple attended, including Dr. Arthur F. Eades of Boston, brother of the bridegroom, who made motion pictures of the ceremony, the departure of the bridal couple and indoor and outdoor views of the Hubbard home.

Dr. Eades is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher E. Eades of Paris, Mo., and a graduate of St. Louis Medical college. He took over Dr. Hubbard's practice as eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, and has made many friends since coming to Keene. He is a member of the staff of Elliott Community hospital and was recently chosen school physician.

Mrs. Eades is a graduate of the Kroeber School of Music, and Principia College, both of St. Louis, and an accomplished violinist.

Dr. and Mrs. Eades left on a 10-day wedding trip through the White Mountains and to Montreal and Quebec, Canada. Upon their return they will be at home after November first at Nine Court Street, Keene, New Hampshire.—New Hampshire Sentinel.

FORMER POPLAR BLUFFIAN AND HIS BRIDE SPENDING THEIR HONEYMOON IN PARIS

The story of a former Poplar Bluffian, now in Paris, France, is contained in a recent issue of the St. Louis Globe Democrat. He is the Rev. Hillis L. Duggins, son of the Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Duggins of Festus, Mo. The elder Mr. Duggins was at one time presiding elder of the Methodist church in Poplar Bluff and an active community citizen. He resided with Mrs. Duggins at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Price several years ago.

The younger Mr. Duggins, with his bride, heads the new Students and Artists Club in Paris, where they have encountered numerous interesting experiences.

The club that has been organized was donated by members of the Episcopalian church. Fortunately the money was exchanged at the time the dollar was at 25 francs instead of 15.

The club has been several years in erection. It includes an auditorium, reception room and other rooms of particular interest to members, to say nothing of the fine five-room apartment which Mr. and Mrs. Hillis L. Duggins occupy.

Rev. and Mrs. Duggins (she was formerly Mildred Durham of St. Louis) have just returned to Paris after two months' travel through Italy, Austria and Germany. Both are graduates of Washington University of the class of 1930. Rev. Duggins spent the past four years in New York. He belongs to the diocese of Bishop William Scarlett of the Episcopal Church of Missouri and was ordained by him. He is a nephew and namesake of Dr. M. D. Hillis, who succeeded Dr. H. W. Beecher, brother of Harriet Beecher Stowe, as the pastor of the Congregational Church of Brooklyn.

The young Missouri couple are, in a sense, on their honeymoon, since they were married last spring. Mrs. Duggins, who is working for her M. A. degree, spent some time in Italy doing research and gathering data for her thesis. Rev. Duggins will take some French courses this winter at the Sorbonne.

Of housekeeping in the French capital Mrs. Duggins said: "We are finding Paris prices high. Nearly everything here costs three times as much as it does at home. For instance, we like eggs with our breakfast, and in Paris they cost 90 centimes (over 3½ cents) apiece. And they aren't always fresh."

"One pays as much for a cheap cut of steak here as a choice one at home," she added. She recalled one summer at home in which she shopped for her own family of four at an average cost of $12 a week. In Paris, $2 or $3.50 a day was the very lowest she felt even a Scotch housewife could keep daily food costs for two.

the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Hubbard in Gilsum. Rev. Willis E. Smith, pastor of the First Congregational church officiated in a single ring service, and was followed by an informal buffet luncheon given by Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Hubbard, who are close friends of the bride and groom's families. The bride was gowned in ivory white lace, fashioned on princess lines and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Only a few close friends of the couple attended, including Dr. Arthur F. Eades of Boston, brother of the bridegroom, who made motion pictures of the ceremony, the departure of the bridal couple and indoor and outdoor views of the Hubbard home.

Dr. Eades is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher E. Eades of Paris, Mo., and a graduate of St. Louis Medical college. He took over Dr. Hubbard's practice as eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, and has made many friends since coming to Keene. He is a member of the staff of Elliott Community hospital and was recently chosen school physician.

Mrs. Eades is a graduate of the Kroeber School of Music, and Principia College, both of St. Louis, and an accomplished violinist.

Dr. and Mrs. Eades left on a 10-day wedding trip through the White Mountains and to Montreal and Quebec, Canada. Upon their return they will be at home after November first at Nine Court Street, Keene, New Hampshire.—New Hampshire Sentinel.

FORMER POPLAR BLUFFIAN AND HIS BRIDE SPENDING THEIR HONEYMOON IN PARIS

The story of a former Poplar Bluffian, now in Paris, France, is contained in a recent issue of the St. Louis Globe Democrat. He is the Rev. Hillis L. Duggins, son of the Rev. and Mrs. O. H. Duggins of Festus, Mo. The elder Mr. Duggins was at one time presiding elder of the Methodist church in Poplar Bluff and an active community citizen. He resided with Mrs. Duggins at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Price several years ago.

The young Missouri couple are, in a sense, on their honeymoon, since they were married last spring. Mrs. Duggins, who is working for her M. A. degree, spent some time in Italy doing research and gathering data for her thesis. Rev. Duggins will take some French courses this winter at the Sorbonne.

Of housekeeping in the French capital Mrs. Duggins said: "We are finding Paris prices high. Nearly everything here costs three times as much as it does at home. For instance, we like eggs with our breakfast, and in Paris they cost 90 centimes (over 3½ cents) apiece. And they aren't always fresh."

"One pays as much for a cheap cut of steak here as a choice one at home," she added. She recalled one summer at home in

W. B. A. 42d Anniversary

On Monday night, the 42d anniversary of the Woman's Benefit Association was observed by the local review at the I.O.O.F. hall, with 61 present.

Mrs. Ruby Marshall, president, presided. The meeting was opened by seating of the officers. Visitors were introduced, among whom was Mrs. Effie Forester, president of the Poplar Bluff review, who made a nice talk in which she extended an invitation to all who were present to come over to the Bluff on Thursday and take part in the district rally to be held there that day. The altar was then prepared and the beautiful flag service was presented by the color bearers.

Three charter members of the Sikeston Review, Mrs. Laura Schreff, Mrs. Harvey Morrison, and Mrs. Lon Swanner, were introduced. They were given a standing vote of thanks for the part they had in the beginning of the work in Sikeston 30 years ago. Each charter member expressed her pleasure in the growth of the Sikeston review and were glad they had had a hand in building the organization.

The program was divided between the three departments of the review, namely:

The Order of the Rose, represented by several little juniors, greeted the members and visitors. Others on the program were Dorothy Marshall, reading; Madelyn Scillian, piano solo; song by group, with Mary Jane Cummins at the piano, and vocal solo by Mary Lucille Marshall.

The Iris Club was represented by Laura Kathryn Kornegger and Geneva Patterson, who sang two vocal solos.

The Friendship Circle of Pioneer Club gave a one-act play entitled "Original Thirteen Coon Town Club."

At the close, District Deputy Pierce gave an interesting talk on the 42d anniversary of the W. B. A.

After the program, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Rolla Warren Jennings, 6 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Jennings of Matthews, died of a clot on his brain at his home in Matthews Monday only a short time after he had complained of a headache. His death came six days before his seventh birthday. Funeral services were conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Matthews Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the Sikeston Church of the Nazarene, was assisted at the rites by members of the Dixie radio quartet of Blytheville, Ark. Burial was in the Matthews cemetery.

Besides his parents, the child is survived by six brothers, Harry, Charles, Donald, Ernest, Carl and Jack Jennings; and two sisters, Dixie and Jessie Jennings, all of the home at Matthews, where the Jennings had lived only a short time. Welsh service.

The following stanzas were written in memory of Rolla Jennings by his brother, Charles, 21 years old, soon after Rolla's death:

He was the sweetest little boy
With a loving thoughtful face
He had a sunny countenance
That showed the Master's trace.

With Jesus now we know he is
And it fills our hearts with joy
E'en though we feel so sad without
Our darling angel boy

Some day we'll meet him in the skies
When we have crossed the tide
We'll meet our angel boy again
Beside the Savior's side.

CORRECTION

In an article concerning the moving here of the district administrative office of the Missouri Relief and Reconstruction Commission which appeared in Tuesday's issue of The Standard, L. R. Kingsland was incorrectly designated as the assistant district auditor. Mr. Kingsland is the district safety supervisor.

In addition to those mentioned in that article who will headquarter in the district office are Delmont E. Gasche, district auditor; H. C. Claudy, assistant district auditor, and S. M. Burke, district engineer. Miss Elvira Metz has been placed on the staff as an additional stenographer.

A car load of flour was received by the Frisco on Monday and will be distributed to counties in this district within the next few days.

Scott county has been allotted a total of $3250 for work relief and $2000 for direct relief for the month of November, according to information received Wednesday by C. L. Blanton, Jr., chairman of the Scott County Relief Committee.

An additional $2500 was given the county for use in making feed and seed loans.

The three apportionments will be distributed soon to county communities on the basis of the size of their relief rolls during the last month.

How the Democratic Administration Has Helped You

The Democratic National Administration—

under the leadership of President Roosevelt has put the farmer back on his feet. The price of corn is more than four times as high as it was in 1932. The price of wheat has more than doubled. The price of hogs is nearly twice as high.

Through the corn loan act the farmers of Missouri have had at least $17,000,000 more to spend on groceries, clothes, automobiles, machinery and other necessary commodities.

This has helped YOU. Because of the increase in farm income, business in every city, town and village in Missouri has increased. More people now have jobs. Wages are higher. Working conditions are better and YOU have more security than you had two years ago.

Through other Democratic administration projects YOUR security has been increased. Your bank account is now safe. If not your home, the home of one of your neighbors has been saved to him because of the home loan act. Your farm or the farm of one of your neighbors has been saved for him through the farm credit administration. It is easy for you to think of a dozen other things the government has done for your benefit. These things have been done for YOU, and they have been done by a Democratic administration.

These are only a few of the many things which have been done for your benefit. These have all been done for YOU, and they have been done by a Democratic administration.

The Democratic Administration Has Helped YOU! Support It!

VOTE ☒ DEMOCRATIC!

Democratic Candidate for United States Senator

Harry S. Truman, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, is in every sense a self-made man. Unable, because of financial reasons, to carry out his boyhood ambition to obtain a college education, he began by wrapping papers in a newspaper office, and was successively timekeeper for a railroad construction outfit, a bank clerk and a salesman. During the world war he served with distinction as an artillery officer, being under fire in the Meuse-Argonne and at Verdun, rising to the rank of Captain.

Since the war, Judge Truman has come to be recognized as one of the leading experts in the United States in county government and financial management. As presiding judge of the Jackson County Court, he has given that county one of the finest highway systems in America and has taken a prominent part in regional planning and reform in city and county assessments, tax collection, hospital management and other important governmental functions. He is known as a progressive citizen, a level-headed executive, a quiet-spoken but energetic leader in public enterprises, an incorruptible official, a builder rather than a talker—a man who gets results.

Judge Truman is a native of Lamar, Mo., but has resided most of his life in Jackson county. He is a member of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner, and belongs to the Baptist church. He is married and lives with his wife and daughter in Independence. When elected, it is universally admitted, he will be one of the most popular and useful Senators Missouri has ever sent to Washington.

Democratic Candidate for State Superintendent of Schools

Lloyd W. King, Democratic nominee for State Superintendent of Schools, was born in Marion county, near Palmyra, in 1892. He attended the schools of Palmyra and graduated from William Jewell College at Liberty, and later received his Master's degree from the University of Missouri. He married Miss Adaline Miles of Shelby, and has one daughter, thirteen years old. Mr. King began his teaching career at Palmyra. He served as principal of the High School at Memphis, Missouri, for two years, and for two years was principal of the Shelby high school.

When the United States entered the World War, he enlisted as a private in the 19th Machine Gun Battalion. He served overseas for twelve months, and was commissioned at Combat Officers' Training School at Langres, France. Upon his return to the United States he did thrift work for the United States Training Department in schools of the 8th Federal District for a year. In 1921 he was elected Superintendent of Monroe City schools where his record as a school administrator and a school executive is outstanding. He is past president of the Northeast Missouri Teachers' Association, president of the Missouri State High School Athletic Association and past president of the Northeast Missouri School Masters' Club. He has been very active in civic affairs, and is a former president of the Monroe City Chamber of Commerce. He is also Past Commander of Edgar McCann Post No. 263 American Legion; president of the local board of stewards of the M. E. Church, South. His past experience and success in school affairs is the best assurance that Mr. King will make Missouri a great Superintendent of schools.

Democratic Candidate for Judge of Supreme Court, Div. No. 1

John T. Fitzsimmons, Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, Division No. 1, entered the law after a general experience as newspaper reporter and editor and as chief deputy clerk of the circuit court of the city of St. Louis. His experience also includes a short term as judge of the circuit court of his native city and nearly four years as Commissioner of the Missouri Supreme Court by appointment of the judges of that court.

Judge Fitzsimmons is a native of St. Louis and was educated in the public schools of that city and St. Louis University. He is a member of the American, Missouri and St. Louis bar associations, and is regarded as one of the best equipped men in the state for high judicial honors. This fact is attested by his record-breaking vote in the recent primary election, when he led the entire field. His strength in rural Missouri, both in this year's primary and that of 1932, was especially noticeable.

Judge Fitzsimmons was married in 1900 to Miss Susan Gertrude

Democratic Candidate for Judge of Supreme Court, Div. No. 2

C. A. Leedy, Jr., of Kansas City, is the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, Division No. 2, at the coming November election. Judge Leedy is a native of Benton, Scott county, Mo., his parents having been Charles A. and Laura (Gray) Leedy. He was educated in the public and high schools at Cameron and Plattsburg and at Missouri Wesleyan College. He studied law at the St. Joseph Law School and under Judge Alonzo D. Burnes, of the fifth judicial circuit, while acting as court reporter for the circuit, in which capacity he served from 1912 to 1925, except during 1918-19 while engaged in the military service. He served as official reporter of the proceedings of the Peace Conference at Paris and Versailles, which resulted in the Treaty of Versailles.

Judge Leedy was admitted to the bar at Plattsburg in January, 1922, and in 1925 removed to Kansas City, where he formed an association with H. G. Leedy, his brother, and continued in the general practice until February 14, 1933, when he was appointed by governor Guy B. Park as Judge of the Supreme Court for a term ending December 31, 1934, to succeed Judge Clarence A. Burney, deceased.

He was married to Miss Agnes Hudson of Plattsburg, Mo., February 15, 1920, and they have one son, William Hudson, now six years of age. During his term on the bench, Judge Leedy has made a reputation for his fair and impartial decisions and a brilliant future is predicted for him.

BANKERS SUPPORT SOUND EXPANSION

By R. S. HECHT
Vice President, American Bankers Association

BANKERS universally recognize that the prime economic need of the nation is the stimulation of sound industrial and commercial activity and recent travels over a wide stretch of the country have shown me that they everywhere are making all effort possible to lead constructive financial support within the scope of their proper banking functions to promoting the expansion of business activity.

Frequently in times past when our country suffered from an economic depression and consequent unemployment on a large scale, the rise of some broad new industrial development, such for instance as a new industry like the automobile industry, has been a powerful factor in stimulating a return or an accelerated growth of national prosperity. Such a movement means the creation of new wealth, the employment of large groups of people on useful lines and as a consequence the production and distribution of sound, effective purchasing power, which is a form of wholesome economic stimulant that has none of the evils of monetary inflation.

A New Force for Improvement
Perhaps we have at hand, if not the rising of a wholly new industry, a measurable equivalent in the potentialities of a widespread rebuilding and modernizing movement such as home renovating, plant remodeling, the putting of our railroads on a high speed air conditioned basis and other valuable developments in the construction field. The effects of such activities on employment and many lines of business would be most beneficial and I can repeat without reservation that we bankers are willing and eager to play our full economic part in any such constructive developments.

It has been made to appear that money has not gone to work because of the timidity of bankers rather than what is a true explanation, because business men have not had enough confidence in the business outlook to borrow the dollar from the banker and put it to work. The basic requisite to the expansion of commercial bank loans is sound, normal business conditions on which to conduct sound, normal banking operations. The best business a bank can wish for is the opportunity to loan money to successful business men and manufacturers imbued with confidence to enter upon aggressive business enterprises and endowed with the ability to bring them to successful conclusions. Such loans mean business activity for the community, growing pay rolls and prosperity, and the banker wants to make them because to be identified with such activities not only means profits to the reward of community good will.

There is no better proof of the great desire of banks to take care of the short term requirements of the business world than to point out that abnormally low rates at which this demand is being supplied at the present time.

High Government Official Says No Investment Except U. S. Bonds Suffered as Little as Deposits in Closed Banks
WASHINGTON, D. C.—No form of investments except Government bonds suffered as little loss as deposits in closed banks during the years 1931-32-33, Jesse H. Jones, Chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, declared in a recent address.

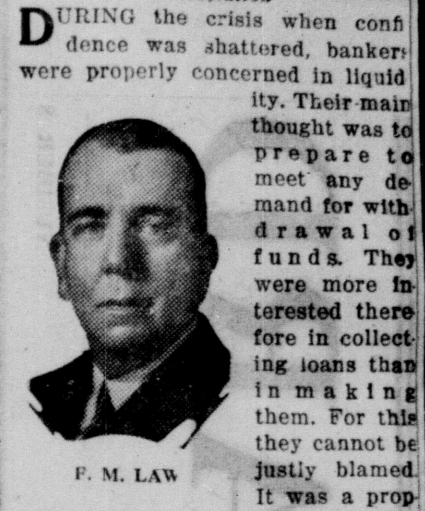

"A point generally overlooked in connection with bank failures in this period is that upon the whole Mr. Jones said, 'Heretofore they will have gotten about 85%, but in these wholesale bank closings, my estimate is that they will average about 65% of their deposits.'"

"Another point worthy of mention is that a depositor in a closed bank loses only a part of his deposit, while the bank stockholder loses all, plus a stock assessment."

"No form of investment, except Government bonds, has suffered as little loss as deposits in closed banks, and while I appreciate that there is little consolation in this fact, those who had their savings invested in stocks, bonds, mortgages, real estate, industrial investments, or in businesses of any kind, have had losses very much greater, and in a much larger percentage, than depositors in closed banks."

STRONGER BUSINESS AND STRONGER BANKS

By F. M. LAW
President, American Bankers Association

DURING the crisis when confidence was shattered, bankers were properly concerned in liquidating their assets. Their main thought was to prepare to meet any demand for funds. They were more interested in collecting loans than in making them. For this they cannot be fairly blamed. It was a proper procedure.

Now that confidence has been so largely restored, bankers will naturally resume a more normal lending policy. This does not mean that they will or should extend loans or un-sound credit, but that in the utmost good faith bankers will perform their proper part in recovery by a sympathetic and constructive attitude in the making of loans. Nor should commercial banks make capital or long time loans, for the reason that their loans are made from funds derived from deposits payable for the most part on demand.

When the return of confidence is further on its way, business men will find need for credit in making their plans. Then good borrowers, who for the most part have been conspicuously absent from the market, will return. They will be warmly welcomed by the banks.

Business Men's Fears
Business men have not yet laid all their fears. They worry about what Congress may or may not do. They concern themselves about a trend toward control of business by government. They fear taxes beyond their power to pay. These are real sources of worry and when they are reassured along these lines they will be more inclined to take a fresh look at the future and to make plans to go forward.

As a matter of fact there are tangible evidences of recovery. The Federal Reserve Board officially has stated that prices, wages, business activity and production were back to the highest peak since early in 1931. Commercial failures in the United States are being cut almost in half as compared with the same period last year. It has been reported that the decline in export and import trade was definitely checked in the middle of 1933 and replaced during the last half of the year by a substantial recovery movement.

Among favorable factors is the improved condition of the banks. It is doubtless true that the banking structure of the country has never been in a sounder, stronger and more liquid condition than it is today. My authority for that statement is the Controller of the Currency. No longer is their any fear or shortage of bank runs. Depositors once more know that their money is safe and that the banks are sound in the knowledge of their own strength, is looking forward.

Training for Bankers
The American Bankers Association has been active for many years training young men and women in order that they may be duly qualified for the business of banking. Standard courses are furnished with able and experienced teachers. This work is done under the direction of the American Institute of Banking, a national organization. Over two hundred chapters, or local banking schools, are in active operation throughout the country and thousands of the young generation of bankers are being graduated each year. These students are taught not only banking practices and policies, but they are also well grounded in the highest ideals and standards of business ethics. A proposal is now under consideration to establish a central school, which will offer advanced or graduate work to a selective list taken from those who have completed the standard courses. F. M. Law, President American Bankers Association.

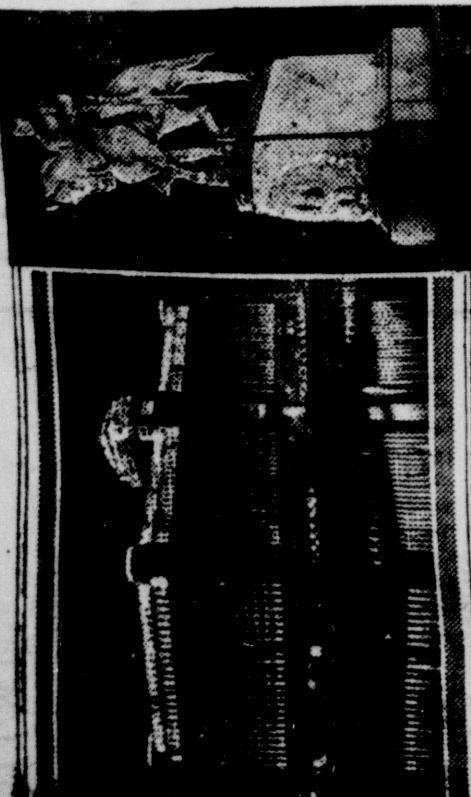

NEW YORK—That a hat can glorify and change a woman's personality more than any other article of apparel is an age-old truth for all ages! And for all sizes as well!

To prove this point, see the three hats shown. They are particularly good for the Larger Woman who wants to look as gracefully young as she feels. And all three help slenderize the face.

OUTDOORS AT NIGHT

Left: With modern cameras and film, night shots like this require only a minute or two of exposure—and a steady camera. Right: Striking pictures of scenes can be made at night. Illumination by an auto's spotlight will suffice if regular floodlights are lacking.

Too long with, there's a lot of exposure of a minute or two. But the camera must rest on a steady support. With modern film, which has great exposure latitude, it is better to overexpose night shots. If you have never made night pictures before, try making several exposures of the same scene, ranging in time from thirty seconds to two or three minutes. Then, when the film is finished, study them to see which is most satisfactory.

Once started in outdoor night photography you will soon develop ingenuity in getting the scenes that appeal to you. Automobile head lights or spotlights can be used effectively to illuminate a subject. Spotlights are best, because they can be moving during the exposure, "painting" the subject with light.

For action pictures at night, flash lights of some sort are necessary. The modern photoflash bulb is the nearest, safest source of flashlighting. You merely screw the bulb—which looks like an ordinary electric light bulb with some crinkled tin foil inside—into the socket of a hand battery outfit and, when all's set open your camera shutter, flash the lamp, and click the shutter closed. The reflector usually supplied with photoflash outfits controls the light nicely so that nearby objects are amply illuminated.

There is, as you may already have discerned, no arbitrary dead-line for picture making. Every hour of the whole day is yours. And the fun of making the pictures is endless. Other views, such as long shots of the World's Fair buildings, may need

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

Should the voter desire to vote a "straight" party ticket he shall place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below the party name. If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates on more than one party ticket, by voting what is commonly called a "split ticket" he may place a cross (X) mark in the circle immediately below one party name and mark cross (X) marks in the squares at the left of the names of candidates on other tickets for whom he wishes to vote. If the voter desires to vote for one or more candidates whose name or names do not appear on the printed ballot, he may do so by drawing a line through the printed name of candidate for such office, and placing a cross mark in the square at the left of such name. The squares so marked shall take precedence over the cross marked in the circle. Where there are two or more candidates for like office in a group a cross (X) mark in the square to the left of a candidate's name, automatically votes against the candidate whose name appears within the same horizontal lines in the column under the circle in which appears the cross (X) mark unless the voter indicates another candidate, to be voted against by drawing a line through such candidate's name. All candidates of the party whose circle is marked shall be counted as voted for excepting where squares are crossed preceding the names of the candidates in other columns; if two or more candidates for the same office are thus designated, neither shall be counted. If the cross (X) is not placed in the circle immediately below the party name at the head of the column, but does appear in the squares opposite the various candidates' names, then only these names shall be counted for, and none other. A cross (X) mark is any line crossing any other line at any angle within the voting space, and no ballot shall be declared void because a cross (X) mark therein is irregular in form. It shall not be lawful to deface or tear a ballot in any manner nor to erase any printed name "except as provided above in this section," figure, word or letter therefrom, nor to erase any mark made thereon by such voter, nor inclose in the folded ballot any other paper or any article. If the voter deface or tear a ballot, or wrongly mark the name or make an erasure therein, he may obtain one additional ballot on returning to the ballot clerk the one so defaced or wrongly marked. A ballot placed in the ballot box without any marks shall not be counted. Ballots shall be counted only for the person for whom the marks thereon are applicable; when a voter shall place a mark against two or more names for the same office, and only one candidate is to be chosen for the office none of the candidates shall be deemed to have been voted for and the ballots shall not be counted for either such candidate. Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold his ballot in such a manner as to conceal his marks thereon. He shall mark his ballot without undue delay. He shall then hand the ballot to the judge of election selected to take ballots, who shall number the ballot and deposit it in the ballot box. The voter shall quit and leave said enclosed place as soon as possible. (Enacted 1933.)

THE EDITOR SAYS—

The tempest in the teapot here in Sikeston is the forepart of the week was caused by half drunk loafers who had nothing else to do but raise hell. Local officers knew who the leaders were but waited for some one to swear out a warrant before making an arrest. If given authority, Trooper Dace, by himself, could have nipped this dangerous "fun" these fellows were having, the first hour.

Now comes Judge Carter, police judge, and let Hildredth Dill and Bill Swinney loose on doubtful $100 bond when they were brought before him for disturbing the peace, drunk, and lead-the disturbers. W. L. Mount, H. Keasler and J. R. Malone were on both bonds. The disturbers considered it a great joke. They should have been given 60 days on the street with ball and chain and if they didn't work, put them on bread and water.

It will be legal this Friday to shoot deer. The quail law will permit hunters to take the field in November. Sikeston merchants who handle ammunition report the greatest sales the past several days in the history of their business career, running from shot gun shells to long range repeating rifles that will kill a deer a mile.

Orville Zimmerman, the next Congressman from this district, was a Standard visitor Wednesday forenoon. He has been doing some splendid campaigning in this district and feels confident that at least nine out of the ten counties in this district will go Democratic and a good chance that all ten will be in line.

Funny how grapevine news spreads. Without trying to nose into anyone's business without cause, the grapevine tells us that trouble may arise Halloween night when young folks dress up, mask, parade the streets and have a lot of fun skyarking. Now the sensible thing for parents to do this time is to forbid their children to parade the streets wearing masks. The reason: it gives cover to certain people to start trouble and lay it on innocent people. Persons caught on the streets after dark wearing masks should have them removed by officers and patrolmen. One spark may start a fire that will be hard to subdue.

Sonny Lee, low shooter in local golf circles, left for Jefferson City Tuesday night to accept a position with the State Highway Department. A long distance telephone message from T. A. Wilson notified him.

Forty leading business men and citizens met with citizens and preachers of the Sunset Addition Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the colored Baptist church and pledged their efforts to cooperate in allaying the uneasiness in the community caused by the chasing from the streets of negro men by half drunk young white men. Two of the preachers made fine talks and pled for protection for their people who were trying to do right, live right and support their families. It was their prayer to be let alone that they might live in peace. The white men present deplored the unlawful actions taken by a few irresponsible whites and pledged their support to end the uneasiness felt.

The Standard joins the entire community in welcoming Rev. O. Earb to Sikeston as resident pastor of the Methodist church, and Mrs. O. Earb as one of the leaders in church and civic work. These are mighty fine people.

Under the present law in the State of Missouri liquor violators are almost immune from punishment. It will be but a few months until the new legislature will convene and it is hoped the law will be so amended as to permit search and seizure and make it possible to deal out adequate punishment to those who break the effect of breaking up some of the illegal sale of liquor. Then the Federal Government will have to reduce the tax on liquor if they ever expect to stop bootlegging and moonshining. If we drank liquor we would never pay the price asked for the doctored liquor sold by licensed dealers when we could buy pure, unadulterated moonshine for less than half. For one, we voted to repeal National prohibition and unless some relief is given from present conditions we are ready to vote for prohibition and all its viciousness.

Sometimes its costs nothing to make suggestions, so here goes. We are told the City of Sikeston owns the lot adjoining the City Hall. Let the Board of Public Works furnish the material and relief labor to do the work on a suitable building for the office of the Public Works. As it is there is absolutely no room to try a case in court. No seats for interested citizens. From the looks of things the City Council will have to meet out of doors.

Chas. Turner, west of Sikeston, presented The Standard editor with several messes of fine sweet potatoes Wednesday.

Driver Uninjured as Truck Plunges Over Embankment

William O. (Spike) Heath escaped serious injury Monday night when a machine belonging to the Limbaugh Truck Company and driven by him plunged over a 30-foot embankment and was wrecked.

Heath, who had returned here by Wednesday, suffered only minor bruises. The truck, which was damaged almost beyond repair but was brought back to Sikeston, crashed down the embankment, Heath said, when he fell asleep while he was driving to Carterville, Ill., for a load of coal. The accident happened on Highway 2 near Carbondale, Ill.

A story which appeared in Wednesday's issue of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch stating that Heath drove the truck over the embankment in an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide was denied by the truck driver Wednesday afternoon.

Heath said that while Anis Couch, a companion who accompanied him on the trip for lack of better occupation, was driving the truck when he (Heath) fell asleep. Awaking suddenly, he instinctively grabbed the steering wheel. Couch evidently became frightened, Heath said, for he stopped the truck and got out. Heath does not think Couch took the ignition key with him. Couch secured a ride in an automobile, the truck driver said, while he started on alone toward his destination. He fell asleep again, and the truck careened off the highway.

The story appearing in the Post-Dispatch under a Carbondale dateline of Oct. 23 is reprinted below:

A great truck lumbered northward along Highway No. 2 thru the orchard belt, late last night, headed for Carbondale, with Anis Couch, 22 year old, of Sikeston, Mo., at the wheel. Beside him sat William O. Heath, 21, also of Sikeston, regular driver for the Limbaugh Truck Co. of Sikeston.

Heath was in a despondent mood and as the truck rolled along he said he was tired of living, and was going to "end it all."

A good way, he suggested, would be to drive the truck over an embankment, and he asked Couch to go with him.

Couch did not want to go that way or any other way. He tried to talk Heath out of the notion. Taking a plunge in a truck, he pointed out, was at best a very uncertain way. Maybe they would be killed and maybe not. As he argued he tightened his grip on the wheel, fearful that Heath would wrench it from his hands and turn the truck out of the road.

Finally, on a pretext, he drove the truck off the pavement and stopped. Taking the ignition key from the truck, he jumped to the ground and ran. Heath pursued and overtook him and threw him down and took the key away from him. Heath then went back to the truck and climbed into the cab and sat there brooding. Couch remained some distance away, helpless.

An automobile came from the south and Couch, going to meet it, flagged it. It was driven by H. Fletcher Lewis of Murphysboro, former State's Attorney of Jackson county. Couch told him what Heath was threatening to do. He said Heath was in a dangerous mood and begged Lewis to take him to Carbondale. Lewis agreed, and proceeded, driving slowly. Heath started his engine and followed along. Couch kept looking back to see if Heath would keep the truck in the road. Lewis was driving slowly up steep Patterson Hill when the following truck suddenly swerved from the pavement and went crashing over a 30-foot embankment.

Lewis turned and drove back and he and Couch found Heath injured and insensible in the wreckage of the truck. They dragged him out and brought him to Carbondale Hospital where his injuries were pronounced serious. Today Heath said he did not remember threatening to kill himself by wrecking the truck. The last thing he remembered, he said, was when it looked like the earth was closing in on him.

Critically Wounded In Shooting at New Madrid

The 30-year-old mother of three small children, Mrs. Ruth Murphy of New Madrid, was given only a slight chance Wednesday to recover from a bullet wound which passed through her body, puncturing her liver, during a "playful scuffle" at her home Tuesday evening.

After receiving an emergency treatment at the office of a New Madrid physician, she was taken to the St. Francis hospital at Cape Girardeau, arriving there at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Roy S. Martin, 40-year-old world war veteran who was present at the shooting and who accompanied Mrs. Murphy to the hospital, was returned to New Madrid county by Sheriff Sam Harris after he had been questioned by officers in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Murphy was said to have stated she shot herself but failed to give any reason for the act. Martin, according to Trooper Percy Little and police who interviewed him, was quoted as substantiating her statement, adding that the wound was inflicted while the two "scuffled playfully" over a small pistol at about 11 o'clock Tuesday night at a time when Mrs. Murphy "kidded" him about associating with other women.

Martin, who admitted he had associated with Mrs. Murphy for some time, stated that he and the wounded woman and several companions attended a dance Tuesday evening. They both left early, though not together, and at 11 o'clock Martin went to the Murphy cabin, located on the bank of the Mississippi river at the edge of New Madrid, to talk with Mrs. Murphy. A lamp was burning in the one-room house when he entered. Soon afterward, Mrs. Murphy took a pistol which she kept in her cabin, from a dresser drawer, and during the tussle it was discharged once as Mrs. Murphy was on a bed and Martin stood beside it. The three Murphy children, Evelyn, 11 years old, Junior, 7, and Roscoe, 4, were in another bed at the time.

As Mrs. Murphy slumped down on the bed, Martin went to call a physician. The bullet entered the middle of her abdomen and ranged downward, passing over the lower right side of her back. The pistol was later reported to have been found on the floor behind the bed and near a wall, and a large pool of blood was said to have been discovered several inches from the edge of the bed. The print dress, blood stained, which was worn by Mrs. Murphy at the time, and the gun, a .32-caliber pistol, were given to Sheriff Harris.

Martin, who has not been employed for two weeks, formerly picked cotton. Mrs. Murphy's husband, from whom she is separated, is believed to be living in Tennessee.

Dempster To Represent City at Damage Trial

Robert Dempster, city attorney, has been authorized by members of the city council to defend the city in the $10,000 damage suit brought in the Scott county court by Robert W. Simpson, a Sikeston trucker, specifically against W. M. Carson, formerly a deputy marshal, and Walter Kendall, police chief, for an alleged "malicious prosecution."

Mr. Dempster was also given permission to employ what legal assistance he requires for the trial, which is scheduled to be heard in the November term of the circuit court. The authorization was given him at a special council meeting held Monday evening in the city hall.

The aldermen also instructed W. C. Boardman, city street commissioner, to remove all iron stop and slow knobs now situated in the centers of street intersections; ordered stop signs to be placed on Malone avenue in front of the grammar school and on Tanner street by the high school during the hours when students are either entering or leaving school; and defeated an ordinance, introduced at the last session, prohibiting the construction of a livery stable, stockyard, pen, or barn in Sikeston within 350 feet of any existing house or place of business. Four councilmen opposed the measure, while three opposed it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hargrove, Mrs. H. A. Henry and Mrs. Lola Jones spent Saturday in Cape Girardeau.

Dill and Heath Draw $50 Fines and 90-Day Sentences; Swinney Fined $15 and Costs

Dill and Heath Charged With Unlawful Assembly, Affray and Assault and Disturbing the Peace; Swinney Pleads Guilty to Disturbing the Peace—Outgrowth of Negro Altercation.

The race riot which began less than a week after the finding of Dave Martin's decomposed body in a cornfield three miles southwest of here Oct. 9 and only a day after the confession of the murder by three negroes and which reached its peak Monday afternoon, was almost completely ended with the arrest of four men said to have been the ring-leaders in Monday afternoon's incident.

Two of them, H. E. (Red) Heath and Hildredth (Pickie) Dill, were convicted on three counts at a trial held in the police court here Thursday morning and each fined $50 and sentenced to serve 90 days in jail. Both men, who indicated Thursday that they would appeal the decision, have police records here, and only last month, Heath was confined to the jail on a diet of bread and water after he had pled guilty to fighting and been fined $10 and costs, a total of $17.35, but refused either to pay it or work on the city streets.

A third, Bill Swinney, was released on a bond of $100 after his arrest Monday, as were the other two, pled guilty to one count, disturbing the peace, and was fined $15 and costs Thursday afternoon by Judge W. H. Carter. Heath and Dill were found guilty of engaging in affray and assault, disturbing the peace, and engaging in disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly on the streets of Sikeston.

Marshall Gunter, the fourth man, who was arrested and placed in jail before the incident which brought about the arrest of the other men, but who was believed to have been connected with the uprising Monday afternoon, was scheduled to be given a preliminary hearing before Justice Joseph W. Myers Thursday afternoon on a charge of felonious assault with a gun. Gunter was kept in the Scott county jail at Benton from Monday until the time for his hearing.

Early Monday afternoon Gunter, according to Archie Woodney, who operates a garage on Scott street directly south of West Malone avenue, and Swinney appeared in front of his business place as they and a group of about 40 men were chasing a fleet negro who had escaped from them and fled far down a street. Stopping at the garage, Woodney said, Gunter and Swinney got into the cab of a Midwest Dairy Products Company truck on which he had just finished working, and attempted to drive it off in order to catch the negro. While forcing the two men from the truck, Woodney said, he struck Gunter two or three times with his fist. The two men went on and he continued to work on another automobile.

But later, as Woodney bent over a tool case, Ichy Arthur appeared in the front of his garage, and crying a warning, caused him to turn his head to a vacant lot behind the building where, he said, Gunter stood with a double-barreled shotgun leveled at him. Falling rapidly to the ground, he managed to seek safety behind an automobile in the garage and to leave by the front door. Gunter then turned the gun toward Elvis Martin, who was in the garage at the time, but when Martin escaped, too, he presumably returned the gun to its owner near Sheriff Ira Shuffitt a few moments later and taken to the county jail.

The trial of Heath and Dill, scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, was continued until the following morning at the request of Robert Dempster, city attorney, after only seven men of 25 questioned by Robert Daugherty, who was appointed attorney for the defendants by the court, had qualified and after Police Chief Walter Kendall said that he was unable to find additional men to subpoena for jury service.

After an hour was consumed Thursday morning in empaneling a jury, the trial was begun. W. U. Taylor, manager of the Sterling store here, stated that on Monday afternoon, Dill and another man whom he did not know entered his store building on the corner of Center and North New Madrid streets and attempted to order all negroes out until he ejected them.

S. L. Schillig, on the witness stand, stated that on the same afternoon he had seen Heath and Dill chasing Junior Gordon, a negro employee of a Malone avenue barber shop, on the sidewalk in front of the J. William Foley Motor Company garage, where he works, and Ichy Arthur said that as he talked with a friend on Malone avenue he saw Heath kick Gordon.

Gordon, however, refused to give valuable testimony, because he was frightened, it is thought. When he was unable to extract evidence from the negro, Mr. Dempster had himself sworn in and told the jury of a conversation which he had had with Gordon soon after the incident Monday afternoon.

According to Mr. Dempster, Gordon told him that as he sat in a car parked on Malone avenue, Dill approached him and requested that he walk up the street to talk. As Gordon stood with Dill on the sidewalk, Heath struck him several times on the back of the head, knocking him down. After escaping the two, Gordon went to the office of Dr. A. A. Mayfield, where he was treated for his injuries and where he told the physician who had hit him. Dr. Mayfield, however, as well as two other city witnesses, could not be reached.

When Mr. Dempster rested the city's case, Mr. Daugherty requested a continuance until the afternoon, stating that he had not been given a long enough time to talk with his witnesses. When this request was denied by the court, without calling or questioning any witnesses, Mr. Daugherty rested his case. After Mr. Dempster had given the argument for the city, however, Mr. Daugherty pled for mercy for the defendants, saying they had lacked proper advantages and were "underdogs."

The jurors, G. P. Van Arsdel, Eli Ables, Gus Martin, F. D. Lair, Herschel Randolph and Clay Mitchell, required only 20 minutes to reach a decision and to fix the punishment after they had been instructed by Mr. Dempster and requested to set the fine and sentence if they found the defendants guilty.

Both Heath and Dill were placed in the city jail, where Dill has been since he was arrested Tuesday night and kept to "lay out" a fine for drunkenness contracted in August but never paid.

Heath, Dill and Swinney were all released on $100 bonds after their arrest Monday afternoon. The bonds for Dill and Swinney were signed by W. F. Mount, H. Keasler and J. R. Malone. Heath served as principal for his own bond and M. L. Limbaugh as security.

The uprising which was subdued Monday afternoon with the arrest of the four men, thought to be the ringleaders of the mob of 40 which attempted to chase negroes from the streets, is almost certainly known from the direct outgrowth of the murder of 7 of Dave Martin, former convict, world war veteran, and a mechanic at the Boyer Auto Service on West Center street.

After Martin's body was found early on the morning of Oct. 8, only a short distance off the old Bloomfield road, officers conducted an intensive drive to discover his slayers, and after questioning numerous negroes throughout the week they succeeded in obtaining full confessions from three, Lucian (Chuck) Given, also an employee at the Boyer garage, James Harrington, and Clarence Hunter, who stated that as Martin drank with one of them at the Bluebird cafe here, they lured him to the deserted cornfield on the pretext of buying more whisky. One then knocked him down with his fists, they confessed, and after obtaining $24 from his pockets they struck him on the head several times with an automobile crank, tried to run over his body with their car, and then dragged him to the edge of a clump of weeds, where they left him.

The three negroes were removed to the jail of New Madrid county, where the crime was committed, and on the following night, Oct. 13, a band of about 60 men was reported to have gone to

Darling's Hearing Postponed 15 Days

A preliminary hearing for Edward Darling, Illinois brakeman who shot his wife to death on a Cotton Belt train near Delta Oct. 15, which was scheduled for Thursday, has been postponed for about 10 days.

The hearing will be held before J. A. Rapp, justice of the peace in Jackson, where Darling has been held without bond since the slaying. S. P. Dalton, prosecuting attorney of Cape Girardeau county, who will represent the state at the hearing, was in Illinois this week on business.

Two of Darling's two sons, Etienne and Carlton, have visited him at the Jackson jail since the shooting, and a sister of Darling who lives in Pine Bluff, Ark., is expected to arrive in Jackson this week to be with her brother at the time of the hearing.

Although Darling had not announced the employment of an attorney to defend him at the hearing, he is known to have conferred with one who will probably appear in court in his behalf.

Although he was born in Illinois, Mr. Harris had been a resident of Missouri 40 years. For 30 years he served as pastor of numerous churches in Southeast Missouri. Before he retired a year ago, he had charge of the Matthews circuit.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary G. Harris, Morley; a son, G. D. Harris, also of Morley; two daughters, Mrs. George Lyle Sikeston, and Mrs. R. L. Harrison of Benton; two sisters, Mrs. Cynthia Cummins of Morley and Mrs. Kate Albright of Joppla, Ill.; a half-brother, George Helm, Reeseville, Ill., 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Harris suffered a fractured right leg, a scalp wound, and internal injuries when he stepped in front of Mr. Emerson's car as he attempted to cross the highway after getting his morning mail.

In 1916, he completed work for a degree from the school of law of the University of Missouri. Since that time he has been practicing law and gaining wide experience, chiefly at his present home in Charleston, where he has also acquired interests in Mississippi county farm lands.

REQUEST TO HUNTERS
NEAR THE CCC CAMPS

Hunters are asked to help reduce the hazard to men engaged in Emergency Conservation Work on projects in Missouri parks and forests, in a statement issued this week by Commissioner Burford. With the approach of the hunting season this suggestion has especial pertinency.

Commissioner Burford's statement reads: "I request that all hunters shall refrain from hunting within rifle range of any work project that the lives of the some ten thousand men now employed in the 40 CCC camps in the state may not be jeopardized."

Clarence Hunter, one of the confessed slayers of Dave Martin, was placed on a diet in the Butler county jail at Poplar Bluff Tuesday, after he had held the arms of another prisoner in the jail while his two companions in the murder, Lucian Given and James Harrington, searched the prisoner's pockets.

He was given solitary confinement and a ten-day diet of bread and water. "You can hold a man and rob him on the outside, but that's strictly against the rules in here," Deputy Sheriff Jess Womack told Hunter.

Immediate success of Missouri duck hunters is up to the weather man. Large flights of waterfowl from the north will be delayed until a cold snap strikes this region.

BUS OPERATORS TOLD NOT TO DRIVE IN NEW MADRID

New Madrid residents who wanted to ride the Dixie Greyhound buses early this week were forced to wait a half mile. If they were unable to secure a car, to the junction of the gravel road into town and Highway 61, for Greyhound officials ordered drivers not to take their buses into New Madrid to let out or take on passengers as formerly, after one company employee had an altercation with the town marshal a week ago.

Since the officer, H. B. Henderson, has publicly stated he is sorry because he struck the bus driver, it was thought that members of the city council would request the re-routing of the company's itinerary to include New Madrid again.

J. C. Hatler, the driver, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of assaulting an officer after he had stopped at a street crossing to allow his passengers to dismount without stepping into water. Henderson told Hatler to back his machine, and when the driver ignored the officer, the latter again ordered the bus moved. This time, however, Hatler kicked Henderson. He was arrested and started toward court, but as he went, Hatler grasped a telephone pole and refused to move. It was then that the marshal fractured the driver's jaw in loosening his hold on the pole.

CHARGED WITH COMPLICITY IN $2500 FURNELT THEFT

Clarence Barks, manager of a small hotel in Cape Girardeau, was taken to Benton Saturday and placed in the Scott county jail to face a charge of participation in the robbery Sept. 3 of Albert Losse, Fornfelt cafe proprietor, who was relieved of $2500 in money and diamonds as he was on his way home.

Barks was taken to Benton by Sheriff Joe Anderson after his arrest by detectives in St. Louis. It was said that two large diamonds, still in their original mountings, and a ring mounting which bears Losse's name, had been recovered and are now being held by officials of a St. Louis company who had insured the jewels. The exact disposition of the $150 in cash taken from Losse was not learned.

Willie (Birdlegs) Jones, a Cape Girardeau negro, who was arrested Sept. 7 when he suddenly appeared in numerous new garments, is still being held, however. Jones was supposed to have admitted robbing Losse with a gun, but at the time of his arrest he stated he had been hired by a white man. Meanwhile, officers held a second negro for questioning and waited for confirmation of a rumor that the stolen diamonds were to be sold soon.

GERARD LEROY MATTHEWS

BATTLE OF FREDERICKTOWN

This week marks the 73rd anniversary of the Battle of Fredericktown, Mo., which was the turning point in the first Confederate drive on St. Louis during the Civil war. It was fought on Oct. 21, 1861, at 1:30 in the afternoon, between a part of the Missouri State Guard, commanded by Brig. Gen. M. Jeff Thompson, and Federal troops under Colonels W. P. Carlin and J. B. Plummer.

Thompson, often called the "Swamp Fox," marched from Columbus, Ky., with 2,000 men toward St. Louis with the intention of destroying on the way a three-span bridge over Big River, near Mineral Point, 40 miles south of St. Louis. On Thursday, Oct. 15, Thompson attacked the fort held by a small Federal force under Capt. Elliott at the Big River bridge, captured several prisoners and most of the equipment, burned the bridge, and then, changing his plans, moved south along the Pilot Knob road to meet Carlin's advance. Carlin, who was stationed at Pilot Knob, about 25 miles from Fredericktown, planned to surround and capture Thompson's entire force. The troops for the former, being less accustomed to the mountainous terrain of Madison and surrounding counties than the Missourians under Thompson, soon were beating a hasty retreat. A Union official reported after the skirmish that Thompson had a force of 5,000 men, and asked Gen. Grant, stationed at Cairo, Ill., that reinforcements be sent to Carlin from Cape Girardeau in addition to those already ordered out by rail from St. Louis. Grant sent Col. Plummer from Cape Girardeau with 1,500 men to aid Carlin in capturing Thompson, whose force was then rumored to be 10,000.

Thompson arrived at Fredericktown on Friday, Oct. 17, barely in time to see his 500 cavalry to help repulse an attack on his infantry which was already stationed in the town. He remained at Fredericktown, making such preparations as he could to ward off attacks. He realized the predicament he was in, with Carlin closing in on his west and south, thus cutting off his retreat toward the south, and Plummer approaching on his east and north. In addition to this Thompson had added few recruits from the vicinity, a fact which he attributed partly to his lack of guns. The citizens of the town seemed in sympathy with the South, so much so that the Union soldiers, believing the townspeople had held back information on the movements of the Confederate troops, in exasperation after the battle burned several houses in the town before their commanders could stop them.

Thompson had the good fortune on Sunday morning to intercept a

BETTER ELECTRIC SERVICE

Thirty years ago the consumer bought electricity at a high rate from a small local concern. Service was uncertain in the extreme, and when the plant shut down every now and then for a day or so, it was considered inevitable. Farm and railroad electrification, like electric labor saving devices, were unknown.

Now, for a fraction of the price then charged, the public gets the highest possible standards of electric service. Even short interruptions of service are rare, because the Missouri Utility Company has tremendous resources with numerous sources of power, and serves many communities. Customers have many labor saving devices available and they cost very little to operate. The electric industry is busy carrying on rural electrification projects, that are bringing, at a reasonable cost, the blessings of power to thousands of farmers, as well as to people in cities.

courier from Plummer to the commandant at Ironton, whereby it was revealed in a message that Plummer intended to attack Thompson at Fredericktown Monday morning. Thompson left town immediately and stationed his supply train about 12 miles toward Greenville for its safety. On returning to Fredericktown the next morning and finding it already occupied by the enemy, he laid in ambush a short distance outside the town along the Greenville road.

Carlin arrived in Fredericktown about 9 a. m. Monday with 3,000 men and was surprised to find that Thompson had left the day before. Plummer entered the town with his troops three hours later, and was equally surprised to find Carlin in charge of the town instead of Thompson.

Learning that the enemy had fled south toward Greenville, Plummer set out at 1 o'clock in pursuit. Plummer and his men soon ran into Thompson's ambush, deployed immediately, and began to return the fire of the Confederates. Carlin, who had remained in town, heard the guns and at once hastened with his forces to investigate.

The battle raged for about three hours, after which the Confederates retreated south toward their supply train, followed by Plummer's infantry for 10 miles, and, the next day, 12 miles farther by his cavalry, which was endeavoring to capture Thompson's supplies.

The commanders on both sides reported to their superiors that they had in effect won the battle, Carlin and Plummer alleging that their own loss was slight, whereas the losses by the Confederates were heavy, and Thompson claiming his men killed three Federals to each Confederate who lost his life.

Among the dead after the battle were Aden Lowe, lieutenant-colonel in the Missouri State Guard, and John S. Gavitt and John K. Highman, major and captain respectively, in the Federal ranks.

No other battle was fought at Fredericktown during the war. Two of the mines near the town which had furnished lead to the Confederates were destroyed and the bodies of more than 150 men were dumped into graves on the battlefield by the Union troops before they vacated the town.

DISTRICT LEGION SESSION WILL BE HELD AT BLUFF

A tentative program for the 15th annual convention of members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary of the old 14th congressional district which will be held in Poplar Bluff on Nov. 10 and 11 has already been outlined by former service men of Poplar Bluff under the direction of Bert Martin, now commander of the Brown-Mabry post, and George Wood, Everett Wynne, and Dr. J. L. Lindsay, convention committee members. Numerous Sikeston Legionnaires and women of the auxiliary are expected to be among the 1000 members who will attend the sessions from 22 Southeast Missouri towns.

After registering Saturday morning, Nov. 10, persons attending the convention will witness a large parade of school children, who will be given toys and possibly some other gift and who will be guests of the Legion during the entire afternoon. That night, Legionnaires and auxiliary women will attend a Casino Club dance, at which music will be furnished by a nationally known orchestra.

According to present plans persons at the convention will attend churches of their choice the following morning to hear sermons appropriate to Armistice day. At 1 o'clock bands and drum and bugle corps from throughout the district will join former service men and their wives in a huge street parade, and at 3 o'clock post commanders will convene for a business session.

An Auxiliary program afterward and a banquet at 6 o'clock Sunday evening will complete the planned program, but before the convention is adjourned, new district officers will be chosen.

SCHILLIG-BAKER

The marriage of Miss Mary Baker and Sidney L. Schillig, both of Sikeston, was solemnized at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Baker in Cape Girardeau by the Rev. W.

E. Hicks, pastor of the Red Star Baptist church. Only friends of the bride and bride-groom attended the ceremony.

For some time Mrs. Schillig has worked at the International Shoe factory here and Mr. Schillig has been employed at the J. William Foley Motor Company. The couple will live in Sikeston.

Teachers in the negro schools of Southeast Missouri will gather in Charleston Nov. 15 for an annual meeting, it was announced today. Plans for the convention, which was held last year in Cape Girardeau, are now being formed.

MALARIA

Speedy Relief of Chills and Fever

Don't let Malaria tear you apart with its racking chills and burning fever. Trust to no home-made or mere makeshift remedies. Take the medicine prepared especially for Malaria—Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic gives real relief from Malaria because it's a scientific combination of tasteless quinine and tonic iron. The quinine kills the Malaria infection in the blood. The iron builds up the system and helps fortify against further attack. At the first sign of any attack of Malaria take Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Better still take it regularly during the Malaria season to ward off the disease. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is absolutely harmless and tastes good.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic now comes in two sizes, 50c and $1. The $1 size contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size and gives you 25% more for your money. Get a bottle today at any store.

Election of Circuit Judge Frank Kelly Democratic Candidate

We reprint this week three articles commenting on the Democratic candidate for Circuit Judge. The first from a Republican editor and the last two from Democratic editors.

What the Republican said:

"JUDGE FRANK KELLY"

In this issue in the proper place will be found the announcement of Judge Frank Kelly for renomination and election to the circuit court of this district, as a Democrat. It is useless for us to presume to better acquaint him with our readers or the citizenship of this county. This is merely to inform all those who read this paper. We have known Judge Kelly for a good many years and consider him worthy of again being named to preside over the Mississippi County Circuit Court. He is absolutely honest and sincere in his opinions and his instructions as able and impartial; that like other humans, subject to error. We, insofar as we are concerned, think of him as Judge Pat Dyer once said while presiding in Federal Court upon which occasion we were present. He said in paroling a defendant after a plea of guilty: "Gentlemen, I have been charged with being too lenient in many instances, but thank God it is in the right direction." So with Judge Kelly.—Charleston Enterprise, April 5th, 1934.

What a Democrat said:

"The Standard editor was approached Thursday afternoon by a gentleman who inquired if we were interested in beating Judge Frank Kelly with Stephen Barton. Our answer was a very emphatic 'Hell, No!'. Being a Democrat, we are for every man on the Democratic ticket from Truman to Bill Ellis. In the first place, Judge Kelly is experienced as a judge and Steve Barton is not. Of course, we suppose if Judge Kelly should die, someone could be found to take his place, but at this time while he is in good health and on our ticket we are for him 100 per cent. We have heard before that an effort would be made to defeat him, but it will not be done in this section."—Sikeston Standard, August 28th, 1934.

Another Democrat:

"Judge Frank Kelly, the Democratic nominee, has been circuit judge in this district for a number of years. He has been tested and tried. There has never come to this office any report or charge of the slightest character as to his unfairness or dishonesty. He may have made honest mistakes, but none were influenced by prejudice or hope of reward. The positions of judges of our courts should not be permitted to become political rewards. We must have judges who are capable, clean and honest, and this paper is sure that Judge Kelly fills the bill. We do not believe that any good Democrat will support Steve Barton."—Cash-Book, Oct. 4th, 1934.

We submit he is entitled to every Democrat's vote and to as many of the liberal Republicans as appreciate a good Circuit Judge, regardless of politics.

 28th District.

The conviction by a jury of the two boys caught in the disturbance here the first of the week has given general satisfaction to merchants and a large per cent of our people. It is not because it happened to be Pickle Dill and Red Heath but any two caught in a like disturbance. This unnecessary and uncalled for flare-up has cost our merchants many hundreds of dollars in loss of business and gained those responsible for the loss nothing. The merchants and business men in every line are determined that this sort of "fun" is to be stopped, even if it is necessary to form a vigilance committee.

New Madrid and sought to gain release of the negroes to them.

No further disturbances were reported until the following Tuesday, Oct. 16, when a mob of more than 200 men of Sikeston and New Madrid gathered at the jail entrance while Sheriff Sam Harris was in Portageville and demanded the negroes. The man, who were slightly disguised with half-inch strips of gauze and displayed several ropes though no guns, were told that the negroes had been taken to another jail for safe keeping after a tip concerning the mob had been telephoned to New Madrid from here earlier in the evening. When they were still dissatisfied, two delegations of three each were allowed to inspect the interior of the jail and the basement of Sheriff Harris' house to be certain the negroes, who had been removed to the Butler county jail at Poplar Bluff, were no longer confined at New Madrid. As the mob disbanded peacefully, Harris returned from Portageville, stopping on the road to speak with some of the men, whom he failed to identify, and cautioning them against mob activities.

Although rumors were spread that negro cabins in the better parts of town were to be burned, no definite action of any kind was taken until the following Saturday afternoon, Oct. 20, when numerous Sikeston men ordered all negroes to be off the streets and at their homes by 10 o'clock p. m. When they found some of the negroes still in town after that hour, many of the men, estimated at about 100, began to clear the streets of negroes.

Stores were emptied, greatly hurting business men's trade, some negroes were threatened with knives and other weapons, and others reported beaten and otherwise hurt by white men. One negro, returning home with an armful of bundles at the end of his day's work at a Sikeston home, was said to have been met by a white man who whirled him around by striking his shoulder, and then chased by the white man's companions as he was forced to drop his packages to escape the mob's rage. Still other negroes were only badly frightened, and some of them were taken home by merchants and employers.

After Monday's disturbance, business leaders met with negro representatives at the negro Baptist church late in the afternoon at the request of the negroes, who sought only protection from harm. At a special council meeting Monday night Dr. G. W. Presnell said that he had called Governor Guy B. Park, who in turn had notified Gen. Harold W. Brown, commander of the Missouri National Guard. General Brown, it was learned, remained in his office until late Monday evening so that he could order out the national guard, probably Company K which is stationed here under captaincy of R. R. Reed, if it was found necessary.

City firemen were instructed to be in readiness to stop any fires which might break out Monday night, and eight special officers were added to members of the city police force, who remained up all night in order to quell disturbances.

The only incident that night, however, was the breaking of the windows at the home of the pastor of the negro Methodist church and although similar uprisings were reported in Charleston and New Madrid, no further disturbance of consequence was begun here and the special police force was gradually diminished.

Law violators have been warned, however, not to use Halloween night as a means of damaging property or further harming negroes, for they will be severely punished, city officials say. To help prevent trouble, children out for Halloween pranks have been urged not to mask since it is believed that if they, as well as mobsters, were disguised, law violators could not be easily detected.

The preliminary hearing for Marshall Gunter on a charge of felonious assault with a gun which was to have been held here on Thursday afternoon was postponed until today, according to Judge Joseph W. Myers. It will probably be heard this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock in Judge Myers' office on the second floor of the city hall.

Members of the Dixie radio quartet of Blytheville, Ark., John Hulcy, first tenor, Chester Kilburn, second tenor, Woodrow Roberts, baritone, and Noble McCullar, bass, sang at the service and the Rev. Mr. Deboard, who has been in evangelical and pastoral work for 20 years and has himself organized four churches of the Nazarene in St. Louis, preached.

The quartet was assisted by members of a special children's choir, who sang at the evening meeting.

Besides preaching at the morning and evening services at the church next Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Deboard will speak at special Sunday school services which will be held in a drive for a larger attendance. Members of the N.Y.P.S. will also have a special meeting Sunday evening. In addition to their own program, they will hear the quartet members sing several numbers.

Dr. J. L. Hickman, a veterinarian and government cattle inspector whose headquarters are now in New Madrid, was a guest at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Transue Sunday. Dr. Hickman also spoke at the Sunday school services.

The Rev. and Mrs. Transue returned here Saturday evening after a week's visit in Richmond with a brother and sister of the pastor, in Rayville with a second brother, and in Orrick with his father.

FIVE ATTEND STATE BAPTIST CONVENTION

The Rev. Leslie Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Johnson and their daughter Miss Helen Johnson, and Miss Kathryn Burks left here Tuesday to attend sessions of the Centennial meeting of the Missouri Baptist General Assembly which was held in St. Louis on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Delegates to the convention learned Tuesday that the total net membership gain among the 1723 Missouri Baptist churches during the fiscal year just ended was 4535, a number almost twice that of the year before.

The total membership is now 247,907, according to a report presented by members of the association's executive board. Baptist church property in Missouri is valued at $14,535,818. A total of $1,559,372 was contributed to the churches during the last year.

Speakers at the convention included former State Senator Walter Q. Crockett of Farmington, who delivered the annual sermon on "The Eternal Christ in a Changing World"; Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas, Texas, and president of the Baptist World Alliance, who led a devotional service; Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist church in St. Louis, who gave the address of welcome, and Dr. J. Clyde Turner of Greensboro, N. C., who spoke on "Our Baptist Heritage." Part of the sessions of the convention were devoted to reports on charitable work and missions.

DORCAS CLASS

The Dorcas Class of the First Baptist church met Sunday morning, Oct. 21, with 20 girls and several visitors present. The lesson topic was on prayer. During the teaching of this lesson, Mrs. Garrison brought out the fact that each Christian should have a certain time each day set aside for prayer, and that we should pray for the things by which God may be glorified. Also did we learn that what is commonly called "The Lord's Prayer" is only a model prayer which Christ told us to pray, and that the real Lord's prayer—the one prayed by Christ himself, is found in the 17th Chapter of John.

We had officers' meeting Monday night at 8, at which time we laid plans for bringing back old members, and obtaining new.

We continue our invitation to all young women between the ages of 17 and 24 who do not attend Sunday school elsewhere, to come and visit our class, which meets every Sunday morning at 9:30.

D. D. ELLIS ORDAINED AT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

One of the prettiest and most impressive religious ceremonies ever held in Sikeston occurred last Sunday morning when the Rev. Dorsey D. Ellis was ordained and installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city.

Rev. C. H. Morton of Cape Girardeau was presiding officer, the sermon was by the Rev. B. R. Schwegler of New Madrid. The charge to the pastor was given by the Rev. W. J. Gammon of Jackson, the charge to the congregation was given by Judge Schultz of Cape Girardeau. Mrs. Ralph Anderson officiated at the piano, and as choir leader, and Miss Leona Kindred was soloist.

The singing by the choir was beautiful, and like the entire service was most impressive, and those who were present will ever remember the occasion.

Dorsey D. Ellis was born on a farm at Waverly, in Chambers county, Alabama. His earliest ambition was to become a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He began his education in a common country school, then attended the high school at Waverly, graduating in 1927. He then attended King College at Bristol, Tenn., and graduated in 1931 with the B. A. degree. His next move was to the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky., graduating with the Bachelor of Divinity degree, and came direct to Sikeston from there, taking charge of the congregation here and at Charleston under the Missouri Synod. He passed his examination for ordination before the First Presbyterian at Fruitland, Mo., on Sept. 8, 1934.

Since it was necessary that he be called as a pastor before he could be ordained, and since he gave the best of satisfaction to the congregations both here and at Charleston, they were glad to make that call and the date of Oct. 21 was set for his ordination and installation at both places as above stated.

We are informed that they had a very fine program with wonderful music at the Charleston church and a large congregation. The day terminated after the evening service with the Sikeston congregation gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. O'Hara where a religious program was indulged in, followed by ice cream and cake, at which time a silver offering was made by those present and the Reverend was ushered into his ministry here, a fully surprised by happy pastor.

Space will not permit full mention of the beautiful solos rendered and the pretty things said under the direction of Elmer Poage as spokesman.

Rev. Ellis' previous work before coming to Sikeston was mission work during the four years he attended Bristol College, one year in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and the year 1933 as assistant pastor of Logan Presbyterian church at Logan, W. Va.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEET TO BE HELD AT ST. LOUIS

Several Sikeston residents will be in St. Louis from Nov. 9 to 11 to attend sessions of the 46th annual state Christian Endeavor convention which will be held at the Winnebago Presbyterian church.

Those who have already registered as delegates to the meeting are Elmer Poage, Mrs. Ruby Hamby, Miss Atlanta Bridges, Miss Leona Kindred and Miss Mayme Jean Wilbur, all members of the Sikeston Presbyterian church; and Kemper Bruton, a member of the Christian church. The Rev. D. D. Ellis, pastor of the Sikeston and Charleston Presbyterian churches, also plans to attend the convention. Several others are expected to register between now and the time of the meeting's opening date.

Among the prominent speakers scheduled to address convention delegates will be Dr. Daniel A. Poling, president of the World Christian Endeavor Union and of the International Society of Christian Endeavor. His talk will consist of a presentation of religious conditions among the youth of European countries in which he has only recently toured. Dr. Poling's principal address will be made before the entire convention on Friday evening, Nov. 9.

but he will speak as well at a conference for visiting ministers on Friday morning.

A second speaker will be the Rev. Vere W. Abbey, general secretary of the India, Burma, and Ceylon Christian Endeavor Union, who will return to his headquarters in Bangalore, India, in January after spending several months in the United States. The Rev. Mr. Abbey will talk before the convention delegates on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11, and possibly at separate group meetings.

Dr. Samuel M. Glasgow, pastor of the Independent Presbyterian church in Savannah, Ga., who has gained prominence for his activities as a writer, lecturer and preacher, will deliver the address at the opening session Thursday evening, Nov. 9.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Diane Levering has married Richard Field, for five years, although she is really in love with Mike Bradley. They have met on board ship when Diane sailed to Boston Area while Field adjusted his marital affairs after his wife's discovery of Diane. Arriving home, informed by her father of her coming marriage to Mike, he has confronted her with news of his divorce, and the whole world knows it has been for Diane. She cannot let him down! She has never mentioned Mike, although she has written, saying "that luxury is more important than love." A year later they meet accidentally, and Mike takes her to a private restaurant, but she struggles against his attraction, but after a stirring scene, yields to his frankly desirous kiss.

CHAPTER TEN.

Locked Hearts.

Not until Mike lifted her into his arms did awareness crowd back to Diane of Richard, his faith in her and in their marriage. She must not—she could not violate her own code of honor.

"Mike—no, no—not that way," she begged, clinging to him, tears of entreaty in her eyes. Setting her down, his puzzled expression answered the plea in his voice.

But he asked with hard mockery. "How else?"

She turned and met his eyes. Then, with tender ardour, she put her lips to his, just brushing them, and murmured his name. Somewhere in Mike's heart a chord was struck. Then it swelled to a crescendo of beautiful sound. He folded her in his arms again. With a stifled little cry of relief and ecstasy, Diane returned the touch of his lips. It was the same kiss that they had known that day in the sun.

"Dinah—" Mike, purged of his bitterness, dwelt on the name softly, wonderingly.

Diane's cheek was against his. "Dinah. I've waited so long to hear you say that."

"Dinah, why did you do it?"

"What?" She careased his temple, his hair, hardly hearing the question.

"Why did you write that letter, and let me spend a year—thinking of you—you—as just a—"

She lowered her arms. It came to her that she had overstepped the mark and given herself away. Pitifully she made an effort to cover up, to maintain the ghastly comedy, to make Mike hate her again.

"I—I thought I owed you the truth, Mike."

Mike laughed triumphantly. "And like a poor, daffy kid I believed it. But," he whispered in her ear, "one day I was counting the days, I guess."

Diane, torn, determined to stick to her guns. She shrugged her shoulders. "No, Mike, really. It was true then, and it's true now."

Disregarding her words, he swept her into his arms. "Only this is true," he cried. "You here—saying meaningless words, while all the rest of you keeps telling me differently every second."

"Mike, there're lots of men and women who are well—drawn to each other," Diane said, steadying her voice as she endeavored to make her false logic appear to be the most reasonable way of looking at things. "Sort of a little spark that—flashes up as a skyrocket every now and then, but—"

Mike took her chin and laughed gently. "Are you trying to turn the sun—our sun into a firecracker?"

He shook his head and smiled happily. "It can't be done, Dinah."

Diane sank into a chair, sad, completely revealing smile crossed her face. "No, I guess it can't be done," she admitted.

Mike sat beside her. "So that changes everything."

"Nothing is changed, Mike. There is Richard. And there always shall be."

Mike remembered something. "Why—why didn't you tell him when you returned?"

"He'd already given up everything. I couldn't let him down then, Mike. He's turned his whole world, his whole life, over to me—in front of everybody. And I can't ask him to take it back now. It would disappear, and he'd be alone."

"How about you—and me—"

"Without answering Diane started to put on her hat and coat."

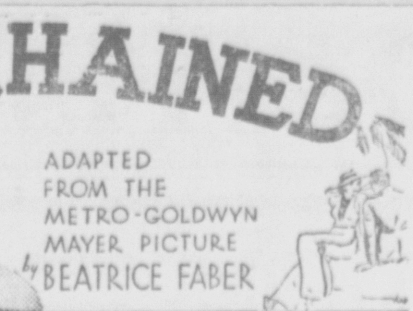

"How about us?" Mike repeated insistently.

She made a little broken gesture of futility. "We grin and bear it."

"Oh, no. Now that I know, do you think I'll stand here and—"

Diane held herself off. "Please, Mike. This can only mean one thing for us. I—I think you'd rather love me than hate me—and no one you don't hate me any more. And I thought I'd rather have you hate me than love me. But now I know why I spoke to you today. Because I hoped your eyes wouldn't be hard. They were—the shutters closed, but now they're not."

ta Verda Ebert, daughter of Col. O. H. Hubbard, of Sikeston, was married Thursday noon, Oct. 4, in a pretty ceremony at again. And this is the only way I could ever think about them—and go on, Mike."

"Dinah, you must stay."

"No—"

"Then I've got to see you again. Tomorrow."

She shook her head. "We're going away tomorrow night. I'll be busy—"

"Where're you going?"

The tears flowed from her eyes now. "Good-bye, Mike—Mike, darling."

She groped for the door, Mike caught her as her hand was on the knob.

"Do you realize what you're doing? His voice was harsh with despair."

Diane took both his hands and held them together in hers. "Yes, I'm keeping you locked in a part of my heart where nobody else will ever be—where only I can talk to you, without ever seeing you again."

Her tears were blinding her. "Listen for me in yours, Mike—always."

She gave him a soft kiss, then before he could take her in his arms again she turned and dashed out the door. He started after her, hesitated, then, almost in a stupor, closed the door and leaned heavily against it.

Arriving home at dusk, Diane, still in a trance-like state, opened the door to the luxurious entrance hall of their Fifth Avenue home with her key. James, the butler, looked at her curiously as he noticed the snow that dropped from her wet shoes.

"Oh, good evening, ma'am. Roy was waiting with the car, but you didn't telephone." He was politely servile, but there was reproach in his voice.

"Were you forced to take a taxi, ma'am?"

"No," she answered vaguely. "Is Mr. Field home yet?"

"Roy left to pick him up at the Union Club some time ago, ma'am."

Walking into her bedroom, she found Amy packing. "Well, it's about time," she said good-naturedly. "You said you'd be back at three."

"Did I?"

"Amy took her hat and coat. 'Land sakes, where you been, darling?'

"I've been walking in the park."

"Traipsin' around the park on a day like this," Amy fussed at her, "And your feet are soppin' wet. Where're your galoshes?"

"I—I don't know."

"Don't know!" Amy was scandalized. She threw up her hands, then shoved Diane on the chaise longue. "Of all things! Here—let me get those shoes and stockings off."

"You go on with your packing."

"Well, get 'em off. What'll Mr. Field say if you catch your death of cold—and it's true now, for a holiday. Hmph."

Oblivious of everything, hardly knowing what she was doing, Diane removed her shoes and pulled off her stockings. "Amy," she said in a dead voice, "I saw him today."

"Oh, so you went to the office?"

"No, I saw him."

"Who? You don't mean—"

"Yes."

Amy studied her, trying to divine her mood. "You did, eh? Well, what's he doing so far from where he belongs?"

"He—he said he was buying artillery."

Amy made no attempt to understand this. "Hmph. Sounds like that alcoholic, Mr. Smith, was with him."

"No. He was alone."

"Did he keep on stayin' alone?"

"I had lunch with him."

Amy looked at her cautiously. "Tell any fool man that'll let a girl skeedaddling through the park with no galoshes— You better hurry," she warned Diane. "Mr. Field'll be in soon." She disappeared into the other room, her voice trailed back. "Well, what'd he say?"

What did he say? Diane smiled sadly. First things she had wanted him to say, and then things she hadn't. Or was it the other way around? Suddenly she was galvanised to life. A hot flush, then a cold chill swept over her. What was it Amy had said? "Mr. Field'll be in soon."

No—no—her mind shouted at her. She trembled like a leaf in a strong gale. It was Mike—Mike she wanted, forever and ever. This was different than before when Mike hated her. She had wanted him to, for his own protection. But now they were each knowing their love for the other. She gasped for breath and ran her fingers through her hair frenziedly. Where was it he was staying? Feverishly she tried to recall. The St. Regis! She whirled to the telephone and with shaking, clammy fingers lifted the receiver off the rack.

to members, to say nothing of the fine five-room apartment which Mr. and Mrs. Hillis L. Duggins occupy.

Rev. and Mrs. Duggins (she was formerly Mildred Durham of St. Louis) have just returned to Paris after two months' travel through Italy, Austria and Germany. Both are graduates of Washington University of the class of 1930. Rev. Duggins spent the past four years in New York. He belongs to the diocese of Bishop William Scarlett of the Episcopal Church of Missouri and was ordained by him. He is a nephew and namesake of Dr. M. D. Hillis, who succeeded Dr. H. W. Beecher, brother of Harriet Beecher Stowe, as the pastor of the Congregational Church of Brooklyn.

The young Missouri couple are, in a sense, on their honeymoon, since they were married last spring. Mrs. Duggins, who is working for her M. A. degree, spent some time in Italy doing research and gathering data for her thesis. Rev. Duggins will take some French courses this winter at the Sorbonne.

Of housekeeping in the French capital Mrs. Duggins said: "We are finding Paris prices high. Nearly everything here costs three times as much as it does at home. For instance, we like eggs with our breakfast, and in Paris they cost 60 centimes (over 3½ cents) apiece. And they aren't always fresh."

"One pays as much for a cheap cut of steak here as a choice one at home," she added. She recalled one summer at home in which she shopped for her own family of four at an average cost of $12 a week. W. B. A. 42d Anniversary

On Monday night, the 42d anniversary of the Woman's Benefit Association was observed by the local review at the I.O.O.F. hall, with 61 present.

Mrs. Ruby Marshall, president, presided. The meeting was opened by seating of the officers. Visitors were introduced, among whom was Mrs. Effie Forester, president of the Poplar Bluff review, who made a nice talk in which she extended an invitation to all who were present to come over to the bluff on Thursday and take part in the district rally to be held there that day. The altar was then prepared and the beautiful flag service was presented by the color bearers.

Three charter members of the Sikeston Review, Mrs. Laura Schreff, Mrs. Harvey Morrison, and Mrs. Lon Swanner, were introduced. They were given a standing vote of thanks for the part they had in the beginning of the work in Sikeston 30 years ago. Each charter member expressed her pleasure in the growth of the Sikeston review and were glad they had had a hand in building the organization. The program was divided between the three departments of the review, namely:

The Order of the Rose, represented by several little juniors, greeted the members and visitors. Others on the program were Dorothy Marshall, reading; Madelyn Scillian, piano solo; song by group, with Mary Jane Cummins at the piano, and vocal solo by Mary Lucille Marshall.

The Iris Club was represented by Laura Kathryn Kornegger and Geneva Patterson, who sang two vocal solos.

The Friendship Circle of Pioneer Club gave a one-act play entitled "Original Thirteen Coon Town Club."

At the close, District Deputy Pierce gave an interesting talk on the 42d anniversary of the W. B. A.

After the program, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter and niece, Ollie Marie Myers. And we do especially thank Bro. Lawrence Ray for his consoling words and also for the beautiful floral offering.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Myers.

The following stanzas were written in memory of Rolla Jennings by his brother, Charles, 21 years old, soon after Rolla's death:

He was the sweetest little boy
With a loving thoughtful face
He had a sunny countenance
That showed the Master's trace.

With Jesus now we know he is
And it fills our hearts with joy
Even though we feel so sad without
Our darling angel boy

Some day we'll meet him in the skies
When we have crossed the tide
We'll meet our angel boy again
Beside the Savior's side.

A car load of flour was received by the Frisco on Monday and will be distributed to counties in this district within the next few days.
